Head-On Crash Of U.S. Trains Takes 22 Lives

More Than 100 Passengers Injured, Trapped in Wreck

ROCKVILLE CENTRE, N.Y., Feb. 17 (AP).—A Long Island railroad train, roaring past a red stop signal in the dark, ran head-on into another tonight, killing an estimated 22 persons. More than 100 passengers were injured.

Many of the injured lost arms and legs as doctors literally sawed and hacked their mangled bodies out of the wreckage.

Screams of the injured knifed through the flood-lighted air as rescue workers used acetylene torches, axes and crowbars in a desperate effort to reach the trapped victims.

CHURCH MADE MORGUE

Ten bodies were taken from the wreckage and laid out in a little white stucco church, converted into a morgue near the scene.

Rockville Centre and Nassau County police estimated that 13 more bodies were in the shambles of steel several hours after the two trains collided at 10:38 p.m. E.S.T.

Scores of horror crested oncoming passengers as they forced their way out of the crowded trains.

"Kill me, please kill me," screamed one man from the wreckage.

An eyewitness said he saw one body dangling through a splintered glass window, the lifeless body half in and out of the train.

A doctor cut off one man's arm to pull him free.

LEGS AMPUTATED

Another physician cut off a negro passenger's two legs to get him out.

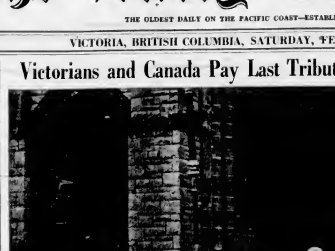

"We're not taking out bodies," said a rescue worker. "We're taking out parts of bodies."

The scene of the wreck is on the south shore of Long Island in Nassau County about 30 miles east of Manhatten.

A temporary morgue was set up in a church 30 yards from the wreck.

Every doctor in the vicinity was mobilized for emergency duty.

Total of Jobless Soars 52,000 In Three Weeks

Situation on Pacific Coast Reported as Most Serious

OTTAWA, Feb. 17 (CP).—Unemployment in Canada increased by more than 52,000 during the three weeks ending February 2, the Labor Department said today.

At that date there were 215,000—about 130,000 more than at the same time a year ago—seeking work through the National Employment Service, the department said in a periodic review of the employment situation.

That compared with approximately 323,000 jobless on January 12 and 261,000 on December 22.

Total unemployment amounted to about 7.4 per cent of the labor force but "the current unemployment situation is in a large measure temporary," the department said.

WEATHER BLAMED

It attributed the unemployment to "unfavorable weather, particularly in British Columbia, and a more pronounced seasonal decline in construction, transportation and trade . . ."

The department said about 85 per cent of the jobless were receiving, or had applied for, unemployment insurance benefits and a larger proportion of them than last year were eligible.

Extension of unemployment insurance was forecast in the speech from the Throne, read at the opening of Parliament yesterday.

Officials of the Canadian Congress of Labor and the Trades and Labor Congress have called on the Government to begin a large-scale public works program to ease the employment situation.

Action Declared Urgent

OTTAWA, Feb. 17 (CP).—The leaders of Canada's two major labor congresses tonight sharply criticized the government for "failure" to meet the country's growing unemployment problem.

Both Percy Bengough, head of the 60,000-member Trades and Labor Congress and A. R. Mosher, his counterpart in the 350,000-member Canadian Congress of Labor, said they were "very disappointed at the failure of the government to institute public works programs to lessen unemployment."

"There can be no question about it," said Mr. Bengough. "The government has fallen down horribly when there is so much work to be done and such a wonderful country to develop."

He said unemployment is "unduly high" in Canada and fast action by the government to halt the trend towards even greater unemployment and hardships "is urgently required."

Track Origin of Disease After 35 Stricken Here

City health authorities yesterday were tracking down the origin of an outbreak of salmonella which last Friday struck an estimated 35 persons.

Salmonella is a relatively rare food-borne gastro-intestinal ailment. It is described as "pretty miserable, but not fatal."

Last week's outbreak followed a dance at a downtown supper club. About 35 of the people who attended the dance are reported to have suffered from the disease.

Dr. L. Clayton, city medical health officer, said yesterday he was "satisfied the infection did not originate with the staff" of the club.

He said his department is checking the sources of all foods served at the dance. Exact origin of the outbreak has not yet been identified.

Only one case of salmonella had been reported to the health department this year, prior to Friday's outbreak.

A statement issued by Dr. Clayton said:

"This disease is spread through contamination of food and drink by human waste and the source of infection is usually hands which have not been washed.

"Any people with stomach or bowel symptoms are, therefore urged to exercise great care in washing their hands for the protection of the immediate families and others with whom they may be associated . . ."

Premier Discusses Program

In sharp contrast to a year ago, Premier Byron Johnson's speech to the Legislature yesterday disclosed few important departures from present Government policy.

A year ago he announced the hospital insurance plan and outlined a program for spending $60,000,000 for roads, bridges, public buildings, P.G.E. improvement, and power development.

Yesterday he told the House how the program was progressing and pointed to some changes.

Most important was the proposed construction of a rail link instead of a highway between Vancouver and Squamish for the P.G.E., building of a Fraser River crossing and terminus at Prince George.

FULL OVERHAUL

He made it clear that the efficiency survey which has been completed in the Motor Vehicle Branch will be extended to a full-scale overhaul of the entire Government service.

He staunchly defended Hon. George Pearson's administration of the hospital plan, saying "the best men in the world" would have run into difficulties.

Departing from his prepared text he delivered a shrieking attack on C.C.F. Leader Harold Winch for "casting aspersion" on Canada's reputation in world affairs.

The Premier outlined plans for new housing legislation, touched on the growing interest in oil prospecting in British Columbia, and expressed confidence that the Aluminum Company of Canada would build a plant here.

The Government program of constructing arterial roads throughout the province would be continued.

Mr. Johnson said the Province would borrow another $10,000,000 to pay half the cost of new school buildings this year.

Five Flyers Still Missing

Tired Teams Return From Fruitless Hunt

Search for five missing United States airmen on Princess Royal Island was fruitless yesterday. Five tired teams from H.M.C.S. Cayuga, the Canadian Army party, and two U.S. Coast Guard cutters checked in at dark with no new clues.

Naval officials at the scene reported:

"This is no 24-hour operation. Long search indicated."

Wednesday, the 12th airman from the "ditched" B-36 bomber was rescued; Thursday, there were promising clues; yesterday, nothing.

Bad weather set in with a vengeance yesterday, hampering operations from the floating base. The Cayuga, in the face of 40-mile-an-hour gales, dragged her anchor. Captain M. A. Medland ordered "up anchor" and the trim destroyer rode her course under power. Firing operations were virtually at a standstill.

SUPPLIES RIB

Supplies at the scene were dropping to a low point yesterday, and Esquimalt headquarters took steps to refuel and resupply the Cayuga.

The Naval auxiliary tanker Dundurn left early this morning for Port Hardy with complete supplies aboard for the expedition. It is expected the Cayuga will steam to Port Hardy for its supplies to speed up the operation.

Directs Housing

ERNEST BROWN

Brown Named Housing Chief

Ernest Brown, formerly of the Provincial Bureau of Economics, was named by Premier Byron Johnson yesterday to handle provincial administration of the new housing scheme under direction of Deputy Finance Minister John Fisher.

In an address to the Legislature, Premier Johnson said municipalities would submit their housing schemes to Mr. Brown for discussion with Dominion representatives.

Mr. Brown was born in Winnipeg in 1903. He received his elementary school education in Saskatchewan, his high school and university education in British Columbia.

Describes New Plan For P.G.E.

Two major changes in plans for extension of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway were outlined yesterday by Premier Byron Johnson in his policy speech to the Legislature.

They were construction of a rail link instead of the proposed road between Squamish and Vancouver and construction of a bridge over the Fraser at Prince George and a terminal at the same point instead of the former plan of using the C.N.R. crossing.

Final decision on the Squamish-Vancouver link will not be made until surveys now under way on both road and rail routes are completed, the Premier said.

It would do away with costly barge service between the two points, increase earnings by greater passenger and freight traffic between the two points, provide a link to the north with the Canadian Pacific at Vancouver and the Great Northern Railway and other United States lines

Dealing with changed plans for crossing the Fraser River at Prince George and building a terminal to the west of central Fort George, the Premier said it was thought the terminus should be under control of the railway.

He went on:

"It is inevitable that there will be over an extended period a large movement of freight over the C.P.R., Great Northern Railway and other United States lines destined for Prince George area and the north, and in the opinion of the directors, the best interests of the George.

"They also point out that it is the policy of this government to extend the line from Prince George to Dawson Creek . . ."

Fact-Finding Committee To Study Aged Pensions

OTTAWA, Feb. 17 (CP).—A fact-finding committee on old-age pensions will be set up at the current session of Parliament.

Health Minister Martin gave notice today that the committee, including members of both the House and Senate, will be given power to explore the whole field of old-age pensions.

It is expected the Federal Government will put its pensions course on the basis of information and recommendations provided by the committee.

Specifically it will be charged with:

1. Studying present legislation and considering how far Canada can go in expanding its pension scheme.

2. Examining pension legislation of other countries with the view to possibly adopting some of the better features.

3. Considering practical problems involved in abolition of the means test or setting up pensions on a contributory basis.

4. Taking a look at the possible constitutional difficulties in amending present legislation.

Bank in Vancouver Robbed

"Shoot to Kill" Order Out for Deranged Bandit

VANCOUVER, Feb. 17 (CP).—Orders to "shoot to kill" if necessary went out tonight as police combed the city for an apparently-deranged bandit who brushed off a claim of action of bullets and terror.

The bandit began his crime spree shortly after 7 p.m. today. During the next hour he:

Kidnaped a police officer; fought a gun battle with the same policeman; forced a taxi driver to take him to a "nice quiet bank," which he robbed of an undetermined sum, and then gave part of the loot to the driver, saying:

"Your share."

SEEK FORGER

Police say they seek a man known to them as a forger. They would not divulge his identity.

The nightmare chain of events began when the gunman entered a Main street branch of the Royal Bank of Canada and attempted to cash a $71 cheque. A teller challenged the document and the bandit answered:

"Okay, if you don't trust me, then come to me in my rooming house and my landlady will okay me."

Instead, Lloyd E. Jones, in the back at the time, took the man out to his prowler car to drive him to his home.

Three blocks up the street the man suddenly pulled a gun. Later, when Jones slowed the car, the man opened a rear door and rolled out onto the street.

The constable jammed the brakes and jumped from the car, shooting. Both fired several shots, none taking effect.

Jones shot him after a three-block chase.

TAXIMAN HELD UP

Hold-up of Taxi Driver Dirk Telford of North Vancouver was the next move of the desperate bandit. He fired a shot in the air and forced Telford into the cab. He forced a passenger, Mac W. L. Douglas, to leave the cab and then told Telford to drive him to a "quiet bank" and "make it snappy."

Telford took the gunman to a suburban Dunbar branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce shortly before closing time, where the holdup took place.

Odds Too Big To Risk Speed

CARELESS driving may wreck a fender—or a family.

When the urge to speed grips you, remember your family whose future may be ruined if you should be killed or seriously injured in a car accident.

Don't take chances. Hospital and police records are full of drivers who insisted on taking a chance. The odds are too great.

No Agreement In Coal Strike

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17 (UNS).—David Cole, chairman of President Truman's coal fact-finding board dashed hopes tonight for an immediate settlement of the soft-coal strike.

Cole told reporters after sitting in on a day-long bargaining session between John L. Lewis and soft coal operators that the dissidents had not reached final agreement on any item.

The stalemate continued in the face of Lewis' order to the miners to return to work.

Wartime Prime Minister Again Calls for Allied Talks With Premier Stalin

Churchill Says U.N. Has Failed in Role of Mediator

By KINGSBURY SMITH
European General Manager, International News Service

LONDON, Feb. 17 (INS). — Winston Churchill again proposed tonight highest-level Allied talks with Premier Stalin to guard against the possibility of what he termed "an annihilating war with atomic or hydrogen bombs or bacteriological horrors."

The wartime Prime Minister and Conservative party leader took direct issue with the present attitude of President Truman and the British Government.

In a nation-wide election broadcast speech, he asked: "Why should it be wrong for the British nation to think about the question of life and death, perhaps for the whole world, at a time when there is a general election?"

To the British Socialist Government attitude that any new approach to Russia should be made through the United Nations, Churchill in effect said the U.N. had proved to be a failure as a medium of settling the East-West global struggle. He said:

"The United Nations cannot function while it is rent asunder by conflicting fears of two worlds which are ranged against each other.

"It is only by agreement of the greatest powers that security can be given to ordinary folk against annihilating war with atomic or hydrogen bombs or bacteriological horrors."

Churchill spoke from his home at Chartwell, Kent, over the B.B.C. network and his speech was relayed to the United States. General elections are next Thursday.

The 75-year-old political warrior said he would not "find it in my heart and conscience to close the door" upon the hope of a big power East-West agreement, adding:

"By its fruition alone the United Nations can discharge their supreme mission."

In a reference to statements by British Foreign Secretary Bevin and Deputy Prime Minister Herbert Morrison, the Conservative leader asked why people should be told that his idea was "a stunt or soapbox diplomacy."

Churchill said that the issue he had raised is one "upon which our survival and salvation may well depend."

Most of Churchill's speech was on domestic issues, and in attacking the Laborite Government he said "all civilized states (of Western Europe) are in recoil from Socialist rule and doctrine" because he said Socialist states have shown an inability to stem Communist aggression.

Churchill originally proposed his "highest level" talks with Russian leaders, of course, President Truman, in a speech Tuesday at Edinburgh.

British Foreign Secretary Bevin reacted by saying it was a "stunt proposal" and that he would not do it. Then Deputy Prime Minister Herbert Morrison accused Churchill of "soapbox diplomacy."

Churchill said tonight that Bevin's dismissal of the idea "by the scornful word 'stunt'" only "showed how little he knows of the deadly peril which now threatens the world."

Churchill reiterated his idea despite President Truman's news conference statement yesterday which rejects the idea of making any new direct approach to Moscow at this time.

President Truman repeated his stand that the door is always open if Russia wants to make a proposal, and if Stalin wants to visit Washington to see him and other Allied leaders.

The President made it clear that any heads of state meeting with Stalin must take place in Washington. London diplomats, of course, think it highly improbable that Stalin ever would consent to such a trip.

London Man Asks Stalin For Direct Peace Action

LONDON, Feb. 17 (UNS).—A New York-born London manufacturer said today he has sent a cable to Premier Stalin urging "direct action" in an effort to halt the East-West arms race and prevent a possible third world war.

Joseph Simon Shane, the dapper 60-year-old manufacturer who said he was born in the Bronx and reared on New York's East Side, declared he took personal interest in the world controversy because "I am a man of the masses."

He said his cable to Stalin states:

"With all the atomic controversy raging and the armament race which everyone claims is being forced by Russia, I, as a man of the masses, am anxious to know the truth.

"The importance of this controversy demands direct action.

"I am awaiting your reply to this cable to enlighten the world on your facts."

Shane said that he is ready as a human intermediary to visit the East-West conflict, to visit the Kremlin and talk to Stalin, and added:

"I am sure something very useful will result."

Shane said that if no reply to his cable is received in a week he then will cable President Truman to try to get further action.

John Shirras to Relinquish Command Of B.C. Police Force to Roger Peachey

Commissioner John Shirras of the Provincial Police will retire at the end of February, according to an announcement yesterday by Attorney-General Gordon S. Wismer. He will be succeeded by Roger Peachey, deputy commissioner.

Inspector Cecil Clark, now head of the Vancouver district, will come to Victoria as the new deputy Commissioner Shirras and Deputy Commissioner Peachey were appointed to their respective positions in November, 1947.

SERVED IN SCOTLAND

Commissioner Shirras was born in Aberdeen, Scotland. He received his education in Scotland and served in that country's civil service and police services before coming to Canada in 1911. He joined the Nanaimo City Police Force in 1913

During the Great War he served in France and was severely wounded in action at Lens.

Following his discharge he returned to Nanaimo where he was promoted to the post of chief constable Shortly after the Provincial Government passed legislation in 1926 authorizing the Provincial Police to enter into contracts with the municipalities for their policing, Chief Shirras joined the British Columbia Police with the rank of sergeant and took charge of the Vancouver district

RECEIVES PROMOTIONS

He was promoted to the rank of inspector in 1932 and served in Prince Rupert and Kamloops In 1940 he returned to Vancouver as assistant commissioner and later became deputy commissioner

During the World War, Commissioner Shirras was a member of the three-man British Columbia Security Commission which handled the transfer of 25,000 Japanese-Canadians from the Coast to interior points.

Following his retirement, Commissioner Shirras will continue to serve for three months on the committee handling the Doukhobor problem.

Deputy Commissioner Peachey was born in London, England, in 1892, where he received his early education. He came to Canada in 1912, settling in Alberta

He, also, served in France during the Great War and was recommended for a commission after 18 months' service in the field as a member of the ranks. In 1916, after receiving severe wounds in action, he was invalided to Canada.

He joined the British Columbia Police in May, 1920.

His promotion to the rank of full inspector in 1940 followed successive promotions to corporal in 1926, sergeant in 1927, staff sergeant in 1930, and sub-inspector in 1936

The new commissioner took a leading role in the formation of the Criminal Investigation Department which he eventually commanded. During the World War he was a member of the Joint Services Security Intelligence Board, composed of ranking officers of the armed services and civil authorities The board co-ordinated the work of Navy, Army and Air Force in preserving the security of Canada's Pacific Coast.

In addition to his other present duties, Mr. Peachey has supervised headquarter administration, the radio telephone and telegraph branch and corps archives

MODERNIZED FORCE

Inspector Clark joined the Provincial Police in August, 1918. He was promoted sub-inspector in 1937 and full inspector in 1941

He is noted for his efforts to promote modernization of the force, which contributed to the formation of the first motorcycle patrol. He has devoted himself, also, to the task of improving the radio communication system of the Provincial Police Inspector Clark is well known for his marksmanship. He has maintained a keen interest in British Columbia history.

Born in Scotland, he received his final schooling at the old Collegiate School in Victoria

His driver's licence also was suspended for two months Pleading guilty to a charge of driving while under suspension, Woods was fined $30.

Crash Blame Apportioned By Judgment

Frank L. Theros was found two-thirds responsible for a two-car collision January, 1948 in a Supreme Court judgment handed down yesterday by Mr Justice A. D Macfarlane

Theros had sued the driver of the car, Stewart B Harford, claiming damages as a result of the head-on collision on the Island Highway near Ted's Auto Camp.

In his judgment Mr. Justice Macfarlane ruled that although Harford was on the wrong side of the road, Theros had had between 125 and 130 feet in which to stop

Instead, according to the judgment, Theros swung to the left to avoid a collision just as Harford swung back to his own side of the road, and the collision resulted

After finding Theros two-thirds to blame he fixed damages to him at $468 and damages to Harford at $218. Under the Contributary Negligence Act the judgment means that Harford will have to pay Theros about $10

Plan Discussion On Labor Laws

Proposed changes in present labor legislation will be among subjects discussed at the third annual Vancouver Island C.C.F. trade union conference commencing at 10 a.m. Sunday at Woodsworth Hall.

Old Comrades of All Ranks Join in Final Tribute To Col. Hugh Urquhart--Good Soldier, Good Citizen

Three holders of the Victoria Cross, the Empire's most highly prized military decoration, yesterday paid their last tribute to one of Victoria's most distinguished soldiers.

They were among hundreds of soldiers and civilians who gathered at Christ Church Cathedral to honor Colonel Hugh MacIntyre Urquhart, C.V.O., D.S.O., M.C., A.D.C.

Col. Urquhart's brilliant military career ended Tuesday, when he died in Veterans' Hospital at the age of 70. He suffered a stroke Saturday at his home at 606 Trutch Street.

PIPES SING LAMENT

Bagpipes wailed a doleful lament as solemn, kilted soldiers slow-marched through city streets behind a rumbling gun-carriage bearing Col. Urquhart to his grave in Royal Oak Burial Park

Among the many mourners were three old comrades of the colonel—Col. Cy Peck, Lt.-Col. Jork MacGregor and Lt.-Col. Robert Shankland. Each wore the crimson ribbon of the Victoria Cross

The Cathedral was packed with men who had served with Col. Urquhart in two world wars, and men who had known him in civil life.

Hundreds more lined the streets outside the Cathedral to watch the impressive funeral procession.

REGIMENTAL FLAG

Funeral services were performed by Bishop Harold Sexton He was assisted by the Very Rev Dean G R. Calvert and Hon. Captain the Rev J L. W McLean, chaplain of the Canadian Scottish Regiment, Col. Urquhart's former command.

The regimental flag of the Canadian Scottish hung from the arched roof of the Cathedral. Below it rested the coffin, draped with a Union Jack, on which lay Col. Urquhart's claymore and Glengarry.

Col. Urquhart, for 20 years honorary aide-de-camp to two kings, was termed by Bishop Sexton "a very gallant Christian gentleman."

Defence Minister Brooke Claxton, in a wire, said "Sandy" Urquhart was a 'good soldier, a good citizen, and a good friend.

DID HIS UTMOST

"He did his utmost in service in two world wars and in the period between," Mr Claxton said. "The people who knew him, who served with him, will never forget the inspiring influence of his humble dedication to the causes he believed in and fought for"

The coffin was borne from the Cathedral on the shoulders of six warrant officers of the Scottish, and placed on a truck-drawn gun-carriage.

The funeral procession moved off to the strains of the slow march, Flowers of the Forest, played by the regimental pipe band

Leading the cortege was an escort party under R.S.M. W. M. Waldron The party consisted of 26 enlisted men of the Scottish, and 25 cadets

REPRESENT KING

Behind them marched a firing party under Sgt J. Kelly Then came the pipe band, led by Pipe Major Andrew Pollock, and the regiment's brass band, under Lt. H S Bigsby.

Behind the bands rolled the gun-carriage, followed by the chief mourners, Col. Urquhart's sister, Miss Bessie Urquhart, and Maj.-Gen H F H Hertzberg

Representing the King was Commodore J O I Edwards. He was followed by Lieut.-Governor and Mrs Charles A Banks, attended by Col J R Kingham, aide-de-camp.

Behind them marched a party of uniformed officers of the regiment, past and present, and civilian mourners, including many prominent Victorians.

MOURNERS FORM AFAR

Military men from across Canada attended the funeral. Representing the Seaforth Highlanders of Vancouver was a party led by Lt.-Col A M Mercer and Major A W Gray

Major J B Morrison of Winnipeg represented the Queen's Own Cameron Highlanders a unit commanded by Col. Urquhart during the Great War.

From Nanaimo came Col. D. C. Stephenson, who recently relinquished command of the 66th L.A.A (Canadian Scottish) Regiment, sister unit of the Victoria Scottish.

Major A. McLennan, a Scottish officer, came from Edmonton.

Old service comrades from Vancouver included Major V C Anderson, Captains R O Kernen, C. H Cameron, J. R Paton and Harry Oldaker

Honorary pall-bearers were Brigadier J. M Rockingham, commanding officer of the 15th Infantry Brigade, Brig. F. N. Cabeldu, Col. Peck, Lt.-Col R. D. Travis, officer commanding the Canadian Scottish Regiment, Lt.-Col C Wightman, Lt.-Col L. Henderson, Major Eric Henderson, Major Alec McLennan and Capt H Molson.

Pall-bearers were Sergeants-Major C J Smith, J. Sutherland, Terry Byron, T. Dempster, A K. Dwyer and G E. Knight

Court Permits Oath of Death To Probate Will

Mr Justice A. D. Macfarlane Thursday gave Mrs. Edith F Matthews, 2643 Blanshard Street, permission to swear to the death of her husband as the first step in probating his will

Alfred George Matthews her husband, was cook on the ill-fated tug George McGregor that went down with seven hands off Trial Island November 26

The application followed similar permission granted to the widow of Leopold Dobinson, another lost crew member, a week earlier The permission is necessary when bodies have not been recovered as proof of death.

J. B. Clearihue, K.C., appeared in Supreme Court chambers as Mrs Matthews' lawyer and produced the report of the inquiry into the sinking as proof that Matthews had been drowned in the tragedy

Death in Fall Ruled Accident

A coroner's jury returned an "accidental death" verdict Thursday at an inquest in Sands Mortuary into the death of Fong Shong Wing, 63-year-old employee of the Henry Greenhouses, Kenneth Street

Witnesses said they found him after a fall into a 4½-foot boiler well, early Sunday morning He died early the next day in Royal Jubilee Hospital from head injuries

Numbers for Saanich Homes

Chief's Idea May Save Precious Time in Fires

Saanich Fire Chief Joseph Law has come up with an idea which should meet with the immediate approval of residents living on unnumbered streets

Because firemen have experienced considerable difficulty in locating some outlying houses due to confusing directions given by excited householders, Chief Law has devised a method of numbering the properties for fire department use

Under the plan a householder will be given a number plate at a moderate fee and a post on which to display it for slightly more If a fire occurs, instead of wasting precious moments with complicated directions to the alarm room operator, the householder simply will report his number.

WILL CHECK NUMBER

The operator at the fire hall will check the number with a master number sheet and know immediately the location without the necessity of listening to an excited person give directions which often are wrong

Chief Law hopes to have two-way radios installed in fire trucks so the alarm-room operator can give drivers directions as they are proceeding to the fire Information could be given regarding available water supply and the best means of approach to the property If a house is situated some distance back from the main road, the number plate would be placed at the property entrance

Council approval is all Chief Law needs to put the plan into operation

Service Better In Restaurants

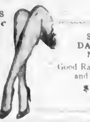

Closer co-operation between restaurant operators and the public has brought about better service in the industry, R. S Porter, president of Victoria Branch of the Canadian Restaurant Association, said this week

He addressed members of the association at a meeting held in the Mount Douglas Tearooms

Mr Porter said that great strides had been made in raising the status of the industry, which he considered the third largest in Canada

Officers and directors of the association will attend a regional meeting to be held in Vancouver on Wednesday.

Trials No Longer to Be Trials For Jury as Well as Accused

When Victoria's Assize Court opens in April it will feature the most comfortable jury in the city's legal history.

Since well before the turn of the century jurors in the ancient courthouse have squirmed and wriggled through drawn-out criminal proceedings in hard, square chairs.

In recent years the rigors of the chairs have been softened by meagre cushions.

But yesterday the seat of justice was tempered with mercy and 12 miniature upholstered armchairs were installed in the Assize courtroom, guaranteeing a future of more comfort for juries.

Meanwhile barristers have not been forgotten. The austere and shabby barristers' room that has served British Columbia lawyers here since the '80's has been stripped of its rickety varnished wood furniture and refurnished with low-built modern armchairs, a long leather-covered chesterfield, coffee tables and ornate ash trays.

An early Victorian hat-rack is still there, but on borrowed time, one courtroom official said.

DEEP RUGS

Deep rugs have also been supplied in several ancient courthouse rooms, fulfilling the promise of new courthouse furniture made last year by Attorney-General Gordon Wismer not long after he tore his barrister's gown on an antique chair while attending a court proceeding.

Most city lawyers viewed the new trappings with surprise and favor. Many pondered on decisions of a more comfortable jury. One veteran official, however, didn't like soft seats for jurors.

"It's hard enough to keep some of them awake now," he muttered.

DETERMINED PROWLER

A house prowler apparently is determined to break into the home of Mrs. C. Temple, 845 Richmond Road.

Early yesterday morning a third attempt in about two weeks was made to gain entrance to the house through a rear window.

REQUESTS DELAY

Request that City Council postpone consideration of a proposed amendment to the zoning by-law until March 21 was made in a letter to the mayor from Louis Zacks of Spotless Cleaners, Vancouver.

Mr. Zacks explained he is leaving on a trans-continental trip next week and will not return until March 16.

He asked that the matter be laid over until the first council meeting following his return in order to give him a chance to speak to the amendment.

The amendment would permit dry-cleaning plants using non-inflammable solvents to operate in downtown commercial districts. It is expected most city dry-cleaners will oppose the change.

ASKED FOR NOMINEE

The city has been asked to nominate a representative on a conciliation board to settle a dispute between the city and Local 730 of the International Association of Fire Fighters.

A letter from the Provincial labor department yesterday said T. Gooderham has been appointed as union nominee to a board considering another dispute between the city and the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Local 230. H. W. Davey is the city's representative.

ELECTS SPEEDY TRIAL

Robert W. Hutchinson, charged with intending to defraud Whitworth Stanbury by inducing him to endorse a $150 cheque on a Dauphin, Man., bank, appeared before Judge H. H. Shandley in County Court yesterday to elect speedy trial without jury.

Date for his trial was set for March 1. He was committed for trial in a higher court after appearing before Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court.

FEWER JOBLESS

This week saw a marked improvement in the number of orders received for male help and to the number of men returning to work, the National Employment Service reported yesterday.

Ratio of job-hunters to available jobs fell from 25.8 to 1 to 17.8 to 1. At the peak of the January cold spell, when almost all outdoor work stopped, the ratio was 27 to 1.

A further cut in the ratio is expected next week when logging operations in rural areas, still under heavy snow, probably will resume.

"News to Me" Says Winch Of Retirement

Reports of his impending retirement were termed "news to me" by the senior M.L.A. of the C.C.F., Ernest Winch, addressing a dinner for C.C.F. Legislative members last night at Woodsworth Hall.

Mr. Winch said he was "under the impression that only his Burnaby constituents, himself and the Angel Gabriel had the power to decide that."

He said C.C.F. followers should take heart from the fact that present C.C.F. members of the Assembly, although only seven in number since the last election, had an average of 35,000 supporters each, as compared with an average of 10,900 for individual Coalition members.

Need for "working out our own Socialist movement, in keeping with Canadian traditions," rather than "aping" Socialist movements elsewhere, was stressed by C.C.F. Whip Arthur Turner, Member for Vancouver East.

Other speakers included party leader Harold Winch; Frank Calder, M.L.A. for Atlin; Rupert Haggen, Grand Forks-Greenwood; Randolph Harding, Kaslo-Slocan, and Leo Nimsick, Kimberley.

Chinese Ordered From Box House Finds New Home

Chinese gardener Wah Hing doesn't give up easily. Under court order Thursday afternoon he was instructed by Magistrate H. C. Hall to vacate dwelling made from old truck box near intersection of Aldridge and North Dairy Roads, pictured above. He did. Thursday night, however, he moved into equally shoddy accommodation nearby and residents are determined he should be vacated again.

—Colonist Photos

Wah Hing's "new" housing accommodation is pictured above. Situated near dwelling from which he was ordered out, it is abandoned fuel shed surrounded by vegetable crates. Chinese was instructed by court to leave first accommodation when convicted on charge laid under Provincial Sanitary Regulations.

Motorist on $500 Bail Takes Test in Hospital

Magistrate H. C. Hall last night set bail at $500 for a city motorist charged with being in control of a car while intoxicated.

The motorist was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital by James J. Proudfoot, lawyer, and Dr. John H. Moore, where a sample was taken of the man's blood.

Use of the blood test as a defence weapon would set a precedent in Victoria courts. Police are unable to take the test as the operation constitutes technical assault.

Dr. E. L. McNiven, police doctor, earlier last night declared the man intoxicated by means of observation tests, used in Victoria for years to determine a driver's capability.

REPORTS COLLISION

City police were alerted at 6.15 p.m. when Eric F. Marshall, 958 Victoria Avenue, reported a car had collided with his car at the intersection of Broughton and Blanshard Streets.

Marshall said he was going north on Blanshard, the other car east on Broughton, when the collision took place.

Ten minutes later, city police arrested the motorist at the corner of Douglas and Fisgard Streets. He had been driving north on Douglas and turning west on Fisgard, police said.

His car was impounded.

Police Doctor Has Troubles

Don't tell Dr. E. L. McNiven, police doctor, your troubles—he's got plenty of his own.

Last night he was summoned to the police station to determine whether a motorist was intoxicated or otherwise.

The doctor declared the man drunk.

Bail was subsequently set at $500.

The motorist, who is not unknown to the doctor, became quite indignant when Dr. McNiven refused to put up the $500.

Major Crime Decreases in Victoria But Intoxication, Traffic Cases Up

A decrease in major crime in Victoria was reported by Deputy Police Chief Harry Mercer in an annual report to the police commission yesterday.

The deputy said there have been fewer cases of common and indecent assault but increases were noted in stealing cases and wilful damage to property.

"I regret to say that the improvement shown in 1948 over 1947 in cases under the Government Liquor Act has not been maintained in 1949. It will be seen that there has been an increase of 88 convictions on charges of being intoxicated, and a boost of 12 convictions on charges involving other infractions under this act," reported Deputy Chief Mercer.

He also noted a sharp increase in convictions for the serious offence of being in control of a car while intoxicated, the number for the year having risen to 40 from 18 in 1948. Motor vehicle offences under the Motor Vehicle Act, Highway Act and Criminal Code also showed sharp increases over 1948, 877 convictions having been registered, compared with 745 in 1948.

Stolen property totaled $30,585 in 1948 compared with $30,313 in 1948, while lost property was $17,831 as against $23,586 in 1948.

Other points in the deputy's report were:

The fingerprint department took prints from 138 persons in 1949, 72 of whom were found to have previous records. Valuable assistance in this respect was given outside departments.

The department attended to 18,864 reports in 1949 compared with 18,131 in 1948.

There were eight inquests and 103 inquiries in 1949 compared with 13 inquests and 86 inquiries in the previous year.

Fifty-three persons were escorted to Essondale Mental Home in 1949 as against 48 in 1948.

The deputy reported a record-breaking year in traffic work as indicated by the number of infractions and the amount of crashes.

Total of 375 vacant and unoccupied houses were supervised by the uniform men compared with 389 in 1948.

Taxi Meters All Installed

Installation of meters to all cabs licenced to the City of Victoria has been completed, Constable Dick Berry, city taxi meter inspector, said yesterday.

After March 1, all meters will have been accurately tested over a measured course and then sealed by Constable Berry. The meters register the fare to any destination, including waiting time.

The passenger will note that before starting the trip, the meter shall be turned on by the driver and will register 35 cents, plus an additional ten cents for every third of a mile thereafter.

The driver of every taxi cab is required to place the signal lever of the meter in the recording position immediately upon starting the trip with the passenger. Upon termination of the trip, the driver will place the signal lever in the non-recording position and call the attention of the passenger to the fare amount registered on the meter.

They Helped to Build Outstanding Force

TWO men who helped directly over a long period to build the British Columbia Police into the excellent force that it is are being recognized in provincial promotions, consequent upon the retirement of Commissioner John Shirras on superannuation at the end of an eventful career. Roger Peachey, former deputy-commissioner now to be placed in charge of the force, served under three Commissioners to build up the criminal identification branch of the service into the premier position it enjoys today. Inspector C. Clark, promoted to deputy commissioner, was largely responsible for the initiation and development of the police radio chain which has given the force unexampled coverage of one of the largest and most diversified territories in Canada.

On retiring at the end of this month after a long and useful career, Commissioner John Shirras will carry with him the good wishes of a host of friends. Former Police Chief of Nanaimo, he joined the provincial service when the British Columbia force took over in the coal city in 1926. From that day to this he has been a valued officer in the larger field, for the last three years as Commissioner in charge. It is true of all three men, each different in his own way, that their joint contribution, along with that of others past and present, has helped to fashion the extremely fine service which today is acknowledged to be among Canada's best. Always they have had leaders, and followed them faithfully and well.

Farming of Timber Should Be Encouraged

RESOLUTIONS of the British Columbia Resources Conference asking the Provincial Government to consider a new basis of taxation on lands used for timber cultivation open an interesting field for study. The suggestion is that the tax on such timber crops should be abolished and that on cultivated forest land reduced to equality with the levy on farm land.

On the face of it this proposal seems to have merit. The soil farmer is not directly taxed on his crops, and timber grown from seedlings by human agency would appear to be just as much a crop as a field of cabbages or corn. By the same token land used for the systematic growing of trees is as much farm land as that employed in the production of what are commonly thought of as crops.

Reduction in taxation might act as a spur to more intensive forest regeneration by private enterprise on privately-owned land, bringing into profitable production large acreages unsuitable for agriculture. This is vitally important at a time when British Columbia's accessible stands of virgin timber are receding at an alarming rate. The days of big trees for the mills are almost over, and the pace of modern logging compels attention to the need for a sound forest crop policy to farm rather than "mine" timber for export and domestic markets.

Today the bulk of the wood used for lumber comes from much smaller trees than in former years. New processes have been developed for the manufacture of a wide variety of materials that do not require heavy logs, and even the slash that until recently was burned as waste is being put to profit. The whole picture has been changed. Planted trees no longer need centuries to attain merchantable value, and a man who farms timber can look for a return in his own lifetime. Anything that would act as an incentive to that form of farming would appear to be for the good of the provincial and national economy.

Mr. Winch Makes a Pertinent Point

AT about the time Mr. Harold Winch was citing the new C.C.F. member for Atlin as an example of the need for a new deal for the native population of Canada, the Throne Speech of the Federal Parliament was promising that something of the kind would be forthcoming through amendments to the Indian Act. The Leader of the Provincial Opposition was perhaps taking advantage of the opportunity to score politically, but that does not rob his argument of its undoubted point.

Mr. Frank Calder illuminates the anomalous treatment meted out to members of his race. As a member of the Legislature he has all the rights of the highest governing group of this province, superior in some ways to those of the ordinary non-parliamentary citizens. Yet the moment he steps outside the Legislature he is subject to restrictions that make his status inferior to that of the normal British Columbian. He may represent the citizens of his constituency, but he is barred from enjoying all of their privileges.

Nothing in connection with Indian welfare has crystallized the native son's inequitable role as has the election of Mr. Calder. It should add force to such representations as the British Columbia Government may see fit to make to Federal authorities, who at long last seem prepared to remedy existing legislation that denies the native Indian rights and opportunities granted to other Canadians. Mr. Calder's membership in the Legislature offers proof that members of his race can take an equal place in the society of the nation if given a chance to do so.

Letters and Excerpts

Letters to the editor on any topic of genuine interest are welcome if they are brief, accurate and fair. No letter will be inserted, in whole or in part, except over the proper signature and address of the writer. Unsolicited correspondence cannot be returned.

OPEN SPACES

Sir,—Your editorial in a recent issue of The Colonist, reference the preservation of green spaces in Victoria, is timely and merits the attention of all its citizens. Too many communities in the past have failed to make proper provision for these "lungs" and, as a city becomes built up and property values increase, the mistake is usually difficult and costly to rectify.

In the Pandora Avenue green which, I understand, resulted from an overlapping of surveys when the city was originally laid out, Victoria, by this happy accident gained an open space; one that gives a favorable impression to citizens and visitors alike, particularly since the "Thing" (mock lighthouse) that once disfigured the western end of it was taken down.

It is difficult to believe that it is proposed to destroy this valuable green by erecting a building there, the structure and grounds of which will, according to the information published, occupy the major portion of the green.

No one will deny that a new Welfare Centre is needed, but surely some more suitable site for it could be found.

I was going to suggest that the Town Planning Commission, which was appointed several years ago to consider and advise the city fathers upon such matters, might be consulted upon this; however, it might be waste of time, for its recommendations are rarely followed.

P. LEONARD JAMES.

810 Royal Trust Building, Victoria, B.C.

FREEDOM AND DEMOCRACY

Sir,—How true your remarks are in your editorial of the 4th inst., regarding Britain's momentous decision in the coming election.

It is now being said that a floating vote of 10 per cent, or 2,000,000, may decide the issue. Are not these votes swayed particularly by the political propagandists and electioneering hustlers? It is a strange and illogical manner in which human welfare is decided. Yet we cling to this mode of decision, and have even been advised by political authority that the ballot box is a "sacred trust" which, to my way of thinking, is close to being a sacrilegious assertion. Basic English may be "yes or no," but it can reflect a great deal of light or darkness. In fact, "the times" reflect the speed of darkness and death to be outspeeding that of light and life.

However, it may be some relief to realise that whatever the character of the government, the elected representatives have to act more wisely than the majority who elected them, although it does not change the bottle of "ends and means."

Security legislation, generally of an external and secret nature, is most often decided for us, and to our advantage. But, when it comes to internal, domestic or social legislation (presuming to serve the cause of the welfare state), any government which makes it compulsory is surely exceeding the power the electorate can, or should, grant them.

Statesmanship means the ability to govern, tax and finance to "set the people free," which is the opposite of compulsion; but when the power to legislate and tax is increased from indirect to direct taxation, and obedience of the individual, so surely the cause of individual liberty and public freedom is lost.

OPEN SPACES

Sir,—I wish to thank you for your excellent editorial of February 16 on "City's Open Spaces Should Be Preserved." I am sure you voice the thoughts of all the citizens of Victoria who have the welfare of the community at heart.

As you say so well, our few open spaces within the city are priceless possessions and have to do with the real welfare of our children and children's children. The administration of this welfare can be done from further away in this age of quick transportation and rapid communication facilities. True, we are islanders, but ours is no mean island, so let us have the larger vision and see that our heritage is kept intact.

D. S. MARRYAT.

R.R. 1, Royal Oak, B.C.

Farewell in February

Through the small window on the stair
As I leant out to take the air
At the slow-fading end of day,
I heard the thrushes sing and say:
This is the end of winter.
This is the end, I thought, although
The northward fields are rimmed with snow,
And like a thrush's breast the down
Is speckled o'er with white and brown;
Though no sharp plough the furrow grooves,
Though still the seagulls' white-winged droves
Flurry about the inland plain—
Winter withdraws from earth again—
This is the end of winter . . .

"DADDY!"

Pioneer Square

By FRANK KELLEY

THE local Hotelmen's Association, according to the story, will undertake to restore the lettering on weathered headstones in Pioneer Square. The announcement recalls some other days when public opinion had to be enlisted to give a bit of "God's Acre" its respectful dues. Over fifty years ago it was Agnes Deans Cameron, school teacher and writer, who agitated for a clean-up there. Recently, Bruce McKelvie, talking to a service club, sparked the move by relating how difficult it was becoming to identify the names of certain pioneers interred in the Square.

It is good to know meanwhile that there have never been any witnessed manifestations, of a substantial character that is—no records either by word of mouth or printed paragraph—to indicate the last earthy housing place of the sleepers was not restful and satisfying. In fact, no honest-to-goodness ghost stories have ever been associated with the place.

* * *

It was hardly possible, however, that the "acreage" would ever remain free from gossip of sorts; and it was not altogether strange when it was occasionally rumored spirits were on the loose there on some dark nights. Such rumors were heard in the early nineties, for instance. To be frank, the grounds in those days were not attractive in appearance and well might cause some uneasiness below the surface.

Although utilized for the occasional final obsequies of an old-timer who might have expressed a wish to be placed among old friends, the state of the "Square" was disgraceful. A dense growth of brush covered the most of it, while the fences, which had once marked its boundaries, were not in evidence. It was not a pretty picture to contemplate.

Only bit of ground to rate any attention was that set apart on the Mearse Street side. This was occupied by a Chinese altar on which incense and colored papers were burned as bountiful repasts for the sustenance of departed Oriental citizens while getting settled in the spirit world were spread out. This was all good food—roast pig, chicken, heaps of rice, various kinds of fruit and other delicacies to tempt the appetite.

For a time the Chinese were happy in offering the fare in that manner for their kin while on the journey, seemingly believing the donations were actually taken advantage of until it was noised about they were removed by beings more material than spirits. Wandering Indians were blamed, of whom there used to be many at one time; but white men probably got the bulk of the "funeral-baked meats."

* * *

At any rate, it came to pass that the practice of leaving the food on the altar after the open-air ceremonies were concluded was abandoned, the roast pig, etc., being carried back to the "Joss-House," where the priests undoubtedly knew what to do with it all.

There were other stories, too, some of which appeared in local papers. These had to do with voices coming from a certain spot, where the brush was heavy, while glimpses of light showed at times. Sounding like real ghost stories at first, it did not take long to run them down. A number of fellows, probably just a bit quixotic and with maybe a sense of humor, used to gather when nights were fair during the Summer season about a certain elevated marble slab, still in the same place, and with candles burning at both ends play cards for small change. Really doing no harm to the indifferent dead, although demonstrating a rather low intelligence rating, the moronic-minded card-players found some other place to play for pennies when warned to quit their open-air nocturnal card-playing on a tomb-stone.

Man-Made Cosmic Rays

By THOMAS R. HENRY
(Science Editor, North American Newspaper Alliance)

WASHINGTON — Man-made "cosmic rays" are in prospect at the outset of the nation's fateful hydrogen-bomb project. They may, in fact, be an essential part of this highly secret development.

Working models already exist of gigantic instruments designed to accelerate particles to the greatest energies ever known on earth—except in the most powerful of the radiations from outer space which may have resulted from ancient explosions of stars. With these, hitherto undreamed-of atom-smashing may well be possible.

The new instruments are amplifications of the cyclotron. Particles of the atomic nucleus—protons, neutrons, alpha particles—are started at moderate speed and drawn by a great magnet in a circular path. Every few millionths of a second, the particle is given an electric "kick," which increases the speed, and hence the energy, with which it is moving.

Notable among the new installations is the cosmotron under construction at the Atomic Energy Commission's great laboratory at Brookhaven, L.I. It literally is intended to create on earth, on a small scale, conditions similar to those which must exist in the cosmos.

It is being constructed on a general cyclotron model, with several far-reaching changes in design. It is expected to produce energies 10 to 20 times greater than those possible with the cyclotrons of the past. It is a heavy artillery piece of the nuclear world, more than 75 feet in diameter and constructed to accelerate particles with energies of 3,000,000,000 to 5,000,000,000 volts. This falls in the middle range of cosmic rays themselves.

* * *

Much more powerful is the bevatron under construction at the commission's radiation laboratory at the University of California, where a good deal of the pioneer work on the hydrogen bomb is believed to have been done. Here it is proposed to accelerate particles to energies of 5,000,000,000 to 7,000,000,000 volts.

This will mean a speed very close to that of light, 186,000 miles a second. Such a prospective speed made the changes in design essential. In accordance with the laws of relativity, the weight of an object increases proportionately to the speed with which it travels. Speed weighs something. At any ordinary velocities, this increase is inconsequential. The weight of an airplane traveling at 300 miles an hour would be, at the best, only a few billionths of an ounce greater than when it was standing still.

But the increase in weight becomes very notable indeed at speeds approaching that of light. There is a final boundary which can never be crossed—for at the speed of light itself, the mass of any object would be close to infinite and hence the object would be immovable.

The cosmotron and the bevatron are designed to give greater and greater pushes to the moving object as its mass increases.

At somewhere near the speed of light, it is believed, energy actually will change into matter, the reversal of changing mass into energy which is the principle of the atomic bomb.

Everybody's Business

(From The Regina Leader-Post)

CONSERVATION of Canada's great soil and water resources is everybody's business. That being so, there should be an integrated national conservation policy. This is the tenor of a campaign currently being waged by the Agricultural Institute of Canada.

An article in the Institute Review points out that flood and power shortages, which are looked upon as temporary inconveniences, in reality are the consequence of "wanton and wasteful practices in relation to the conservation of our forest and agricultural lands." Floods and power shortages will come with greater frequency and greater severity as long as such wasteful practices are continued. One of the basic troubles is that trees are being destroyed many times faster than they are being replaced. Therefore the condition of forests many hundreds of miles away is the concern of every urban dweller, even though few of them are aware of this fact.

That soil conservation is the vital concern of urban as well as rural dwellers is much better realized in the West than in the East. The people of the Prairies have a thorough understanding of the relationship between land fertility, crops, business, jobs and good times.

The institute, which comprises 3,200 technical and professional men in the agricultural field, is attempting to awaken all the people of Canada to the grave consequences of wanton destruction of the nation's basic resources, soil and water. It is advocating the immediate establishment of a national policy of conservation, and the passage of necessary legislation.

The Dominion Government already has made a good start. P.F.R.A. has done effective work where conservation efforts were badly needed to check soil erosion and conserve water. Ottawa also is assisting the provinces in the work of preserving the forest coverings on the slopes of the Rockies. All that has been done to date has only nibbled along the fringes of the problem. The institute is on sound ground in advocating a co-ordinated national policy under the leadership of the Dominion to do the conservation job on a scale and with a thoroughness that will assure the preservation of the two basic natural resources, soil and water.

Most urban consumers are probably rejoicing in the reduction in prices of farm products. They forget all too quickly that unless we have a similar reduction in the price of most goods we buy, as well as in the wages paid labor, it can only result in unemployment and a greatly lowered standard of living." The Packsack

By GREGORY CLARK

ON the authority of a group of sophomores and seniors of one of our big Canadian universities, we have it that those students who are married are the objects of envy on the part of the student body.

They appear to stand higher in their classes than the average. They give to their fellow students an impression of happiness, security and purpose. Some of them are in financial difficulties: but that is taken for granted. Most of them give no evidence of finding it troublesome to manage on whatever income they have. By reason of being married, they are not expected to join in many of the trivial activities of college life. They have a great deal more time and opportunity to attend to their studies than have the unmarried undergraduates. It is suspected by their fellow students that those who have good wives—and the feeling is that by far the greater number of them have good wives—are kept with their noses to the grindstone.

"Among the married students I know," said one senior who expects to graduate this Spring, "there is not going to be one failure: in fact, all of them will graduate with some distinction."

Is this an argument in favor of university students getting married? No! It is rather a happy reflection on a situation that has turned out well. In another year or two, our universities are likely to be populated once more by the teenish matriculants of the high schools who, until the war, were the familiar inhabitants of colleges. It was the war that backed up a whole six or seven year generation of young men and women. Added to the congestion problem faced and solved by the universities have been the individual problems of a great many of these adult students. It is great to hear good of them from their own fellows.

Increased Police Alertness, Medical Decision Behind Jump in Drunk Driving Convictions

—POLICE COMMISSION NEWS—

The increase in drunken driving convictions is due to the alertness of city policemen, in the opinion of Police Commissioner Burges J. Gadsden.

When Mayor Percy E. George at a police commission meeting yesterday expressed concern over the prevalence of drunken driving, Commissioner Gadsden did not agree that drinking was on the upward trend.

The mayor noted that records showed a three-fold increase, but Commissioner Gadsden felt this was because the police were more alert.

"There may be something in what you say, but if that was the case, the department must have been at an all-time low a few years ago when drunken driving was very much less," replied Mayor George.

Commissioner James E. Neely felt police were tougher on drunken drivers than they used to be, adding he didn't think drinking was increasing.

Deputy Police Chief Harry Mercer said the fact that a doctor is available for examination of suspects probably has increased the convictions. He explained that previously a policeman had to make the decision as to sobriety himself.

FINES TOTAL $2,177

City police court officials during last month handled a total of 353 cases, Deputy Police Chief Harry Mercer reported to the police commission yesterday.

Fines and costs amounted to $2,177 of which $77 was refundable. Total of 130 persons paid $1 fines under the Parking Meter By-Law and 72 were brought up on charges under the Street Traffic By-Law. The Motor Vehicle Act nicked 86 and the Criminal Code 13.

Value of stolen property reported was $2,214 of which $1,006 was recovered. Seventeen persons were reported missing and sixteen were located. Nine cars were reported stolen and all recovered.

There was a total of 157 written reports of accidents during January and two persons hurt. Police rendered first aid to 24 persons and the patrol wagon made 152 runs.

In juvenile court two persons were charged with breaking and entering, one with wilful damage, one with having no driver's licence and another under a city by-law.

* * *

YEAR'S TOTAL LESS

Victoria police court cases showed a definite decline during 1949.

Deputy Police Chief Harry Mercer told the police commission in an annual report yesterday that the 1949 total was 9,138 as against 10,012 in 1948.

Of these, 7,073 were infractions of city by-laws, compared with 8,208 in 1948, while parking meter violations accounted for 4,372 compared with 5,412 the previous year.

Fines and costs collected (after refunds) totaled $38,907 compared with $35,134 in 1948.

* * *

ACCIDENT RECORD

Victorians piled up an all-time accident record during 1949, Deputy Police Chief Harry Mercer told the police commission in his annual report yesterday.

The number of traffic accidents involving injury to persons or damage over $25 rose to a record of 1,103 compared with 953 in 1948, the deputy stated.

There were six traffic fatalities as against five in 1948. Number of injured in the year increased from 220 in 1948 to 270.

* * *

JUVENILE CASES

A continued reduction in juvenile court cases was reported to the Victoria police commission by Deputy Police Chief Harry Mercer in his annual report.

During 1949, he said, 77 persons were brought before the court compared with 78 in 1948 and 82 in 1947. Of this number 29 were residents of outside municipalities who came into the city to commit offences.

In 1949, 40 children were housed in the Greater Victoria Juvenile Detention Home, 1527 Coldharbour Road, pending disposition of their cases. Eight boys and one girl were committed to industrial schools. Fourteen of the juvenile cases were repeaters.

FORGETFUL

Victorians may not be the most forgetful people in the world but city policemen must consider them likely contenders for the undesirable award.

During 1949, policemen on the beat found 647 premises left insecure.

And they evidently were not improving. In 1948 only 554 establishments were discovered unlocked.

* * *

SICK LEAVE HIGH

Amount of sick leave taken by city policemen was termed "amazing" by Mayor Percy E. George, chairman of the police commission, as he perused the annual report yesterday.

Sick leave in the department totaled 778½ days in 1949 compared with 597 in 1948. Days lost through injury were 160, 117 of these being taken by two injured men.

"That sick leave amounts to $6,800," stated the mayor.

* * *

PROMOTIONS

Promotions of three city police constables were endorsed by the police commission yesterday on the recommendation of Deputy Chief Harry Mercer.

Constable L. J. Mottershead was promoted to the rank of first-class constable and Constables James L. Smith and Eric Rossiter to third class.

Wage increases for two clerks in the detective and traffic departments were approved.

* * *

COMMISSION NOTES

Miss Ana Sass, recently appointed secretary to the police commission and the police chief, was introduced to the commission.

* * *

A conciliation board dealing with the city police union's wage requests will sit March 1, the police commission was informed yesterday.

Chairman will be Paul B. Paine, Vancouver, police union representative, George F. Gregory, and commission representative, H. W. Davey.

The union also is requesting institution of a 40-hour week.

* * *

The police commission complimented Deputy Police Chief Harry Mercer on his annual report which he had to prepare at short notice. The report was the deputy's first.

* * *

Commission passed a motion instructing the secretary to write a farewell letter to retiring British Columbia Police Commissioner John Shirras, thanking him for his past co-operation and wishing him the best in retirement. Letters of congratulations also will be sent to his successor, Deputy Commissioner Roger Peachey and Inspector Charles Clarke, who was appointed deputy commissioner.

Dry Cleaners Will Oppose Zoning Change

Most city dry-cleaners will oppose a proposed amendment to the city zoning by-law which would permit dry-cleaning plants using non-inflammable solvents to operate in the downtown area, it was learned yesterday.

A letter to Mayor Percy George from Hugh R. Stephen, vice-president of New Method Laundries, asked permission for a delegation of dry-cleaners to make representations to Council at its next meeting.

Permission for the delegation was granted.

The proposal, which came up before Council Monday, was tabled for two weeks to allow the cleaners to prepare briefs.

The amendment was framed to permit dry-cleaning operations by Spotless Cleaners in downtown areas.

More Traffic Signals Urged

Installation of traffic automatic control signals at four important city intersections was recommended by Deputy Police Chief Harry Mercer in his annual report to the police commission yesterday.

The intersections are Fisgard and Douglas Streets; Quadra and Fort Streets; Pandora Avenue and Blanshard Street, and Government and Belleville Streets.

Amber and red blinkers were recommended for the intersections of Fernwood Road and Pandora Avenue and Humboldt and Douglas Streets.

The deputy chief recommended painting of lane lines from Humboldt Street north to Tolmie Avenue on Douglas Street, from Cormorant Street to Tolmie Avenue on Government Street.

SINGLE CENTRE LINES

He also recommended single centre lines (broken dash lines) on Fairfield Road from Cook Street to Foul Bay Road, Cook Street from Hillside Avenue to Douglas Street, Hillside Avenue from Fountain Corner to city limits; Superior Street from Government Street to St. Lawrence Street; Gorge Road from Fountain Corner to city limits; Quadra Street from Pandora Avenue to city limits; Pandora Avenue from Douglas Street to city limits (including Oak Bay Avenue); Fort Street from Douglas Street to Foul Bay Road; Yates Street from Douglas Street to Fort Street; Craigflower Road from Arm Street to Skinner Street; Catherine Street from Craigflower Road to Johnson Street and Johnson Street from Government Street to Dominion Road.

WANTS MORE CARS

Other recommendations included purchase of two cars, two motorcycles, two used side cars for Winter use, and a 250-gallon gas tank to augment the station's present storage space.

The deputy asked that consideration be given to improving the radio system of the police and fire departments as suggested in a report already being considered. The cost is estimated at $6,467 to the department. He also recommended purchase of a photographic enlarger and drier, a card index filing cabinet, four revolvers, ten pairs of handcuffs and a floor polisher.

Improvement of acoustics in the police court and prosecutor's office at a cost of $975 also was recommended by the deputy.

Of 11 moons surrounding the planet Jupiter, the four discovered by Galileo are as large as, or larger than, our moon.

Estimated Police Costs Show $22,000 Increase

Victoria Police Department's tentative estimated expenditure for 1950—not including possible wage boosts—has been set by Deputy Chief Harry Mercer at $307,372 compared with $285,237 estimated last year.

The department overspent $17,569 in 1949 but $13,505 of that sum was for 1948 retroactive salary increases not included in last year's estimates. Allowing for this fact, overspending for 1949 is reduced to $4,064.

ESTIMATE MAY CHANGE

Should the police union be successful in its bid for wage increases at forthcoming conciliation proceedings, the estimate picture will be changed considerably. The 1950 salary estimate has been set tentatively at $236,778.

Estimated cost of insurance this year is $3,250 compared with $3,213 actually spent last year. Clothing estimate is $10,000 compared with $9,967 spent in 1949. Inquests are expected to cost $2,000 this year with $1,885 being spent last year.

OTHER ESTIMATES

Other estimates for 1950 with amount actually spent in 1949 in brackets are: Telephones $1,175 ($1,081); keep of prisoners $3,850 ($3,801); fuel and light $4,500 ($4,011); motor patrol maintenance $7,500 ($7,248); two new cars $4,500 ($3,718); Motorcycle maintenance $4,500 ($3,898); new motorcycles $2,728 ($2,218); printing $1,100 ($949); replacing water pipes $2,000 (none); traffic signal maintenance $1,000 ($19); communications and signals $3,610 ($1,940); sundries $5,000 ($5,040).

Additional estimates for which there was no expenditure last year are: 250-gallon gas tank $175; enlarger and dryer for photos $333; index filing cabinet $140; revolvers $280; police radio system $6,467; floor polisher $200; east wall passage $260; police court acoustics $975; five car heaters $215; 61 Sam Browne belts $755.

The police commission will hold a special meeting later to discuss the estimates.

Tenders to Be Called for Building Of Memorial Hall for St. John's

IN CITY CHURCHES SUNDAY

Tenders will be called immediately for construction of a new memorial parish hall for St. John's Anglican Church, it was announced yesterday.

Architect's estimate of the cost is $45,000. Approximately $35,000 has been raised by the church's building committee.

Approval to begin construction was given at a vestry meeting on Monday night. Cecil Parrott, chairman of the building committee, explained plans to the meeting. John Vickers was placed in charge of a campaign to raise the needed $10,000.

WAR MEMORIAL

The hall, to be built as a war memorial, will contain a small chapel and shrine.

The building will be erected on a vacant lot beside the rectory on Mason Street.

It will be 56 x 85 feet, of reinforced concrete construction with a steel-truss bow roof and laminated floors, overlaid with maple in the main auditorium for two badminton courts and a stage.

The basement will contain Sunday school rooms and a fireside room. The chapel will be on the mezzanine floor.

Architect is F W Nicolls.

Canon Biddle Submits Report

Total receipts issued to St. John's Anglican Church in 1949 amounted to $19,516.96, while the year's expenditures totaled $18,266.60, it was disclosed at the annual vestry meeting.

Canon George Biddle, rector, said in his annual report the congregation had increased, the Sunday school and various organizations had grown and finances had remained fairly steady.

William A Patterson and Frank G Mulliner were returned as rector's warden and people's warden, respectively, for this year.

R. E Burns, S Frost, S C Hawkins, C. M Parrott, F C. Pollard, T F Huzzey, D A M Patterson, E O Teal, J Vickers and A V Price, treasurer, were named to the church committee.

Returned as members of the advisory group were Hon H B Robertson, Dr Hermann Robertson, H. M Diggon, G H Gowan, R. H. B. Ker, J A. Merrick, Lt.-Gen. E C. Ashton and J. P Tonsdell.

NAME SYNOD MEMBERS

Delegates elected to the Synod were W. A. Patterson, A V Price, F G. Mulliner, John Vickers, E. O. Teal and S. Frost, delegates to the Ruri-Decanal Conference will be S. C. Hawkins and T F Huzzey.

Sidesmen re-elected were J A. Andrews, R E Burns, W S. Phillips, A V Price, T F Huzzey and C M Parrot, all chairmen. New members include G. Gadsden, F C Pollard, R A Bell, N Ettell, S. Crawford, P Sanderson, G C. James and H R Wilkinson.

Howard Correll, well-known singer of sacred songs from Toronto, will be featured at two "Youth for Christ" rallies this week-end.

He will appear with George Robinson, from Toronto also, at a youth rally, Saturday night at the Glad Tidings Tabernacle. At 3 p.m., Sunday, he will conduct a request program at First Baptist Church.

Mr. Correll has sung with the Mendelssohn Choir under the direction of Sir Ernest MacMillan. He has been heard on the air and has made many records.

"Home Town" Topic Of Guild Address

Max Cody will address the St Mary's Men's Guild at 8 p.m., Thursday, in the Guild Hall, Yale Street. He will speak on "Your Home Town and Mine."

LUCKY SMOKE

MAPLE RIDGE, B.C. (CP)—A long-stemmed Indian pipe of peace heralds a good year here. The pipe stayed lighted while Reeve Solomon Mussallem and his 1950 council puffed and passed it around. Legend says a trouble year would have come had the pipe gone out before completing its rounds.

First Annual Symphony Ball Is Great Success

Prior to attending the first annual Symphony Ball, which was held at the Empress Hotel last evening, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stenner entertained at their home on Beach Drive. Pictured from left to right, front row, are Mrs. Juelsberg, Mrs. Ruttan, Mrs. Stenner and Mrs. Roy Denny; back row, Mr. Stenner, Mr. T. Juelsberg and Surg.-Cmdr. H. Ruttan

Mrs. F. Mara, Pemberton Road, also entertained prior to the ball, and a group of guests are pictured above. Front row, from left to right, are Mrs. Ashe, Miss Denise Mara, Mrs. Mara and Miss Marcia Prior; back row, Mr. Hans Gruber, Mr. R. T. Hoard and Mr. E. P. Ashe.

Ball Gowns Shown to Advantage Swirling to Viennese Waltzes

Viennese waltzes set the tone for the romantic and stately first annual symphony ball held last evening in the Crystal Ballroom of the Empress Hotel. Two hundred guests attended the ball, which was cabaret style, and danced to the strains of the Victoria Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Mr. Hans Gruber, and a few numbers by Mr. William Tickle. Len Acres orchestra was also in attendance.

The formal gowns, many glittering with sequins and diamente trim, worn by the feminine guests, were shown to advantage as skirts swirled to the tune of the old-fashioned waltzes.

Miss Sara Spencer, president of the Victoria Symphony Society, looked regal in a gown of black crepe and net yoke and sleeves, with corsage of deep red roses.

A block gown with full skirt of taffeta and bodice of black lace, with silver sandals, was worn by Mrs. F. D. Mara. A lovely old amethyst necklace completed the gold, mauve and green striped French taffeta gown chosen by Miss Denise Mara.

SPANISH ORIGINAL

One of the outstanding gowns was worn by Mrs. H. R. Ruttan. An original Spanish dress, it was fashioned of black silk chiffon and lace over a bell-shaped skirt of off-white slipper satin. An old necklace of pear-shaped black jet with matching earrings and long pearl grey gloves complemented this lovely costume.

Mrs. Walter Stenner wore an imported gown of midnight blue chiffon featuring a strapless, heavily-beaded yoke. Mrs. Waldo Skillings chose a French model in peach satin, strapless, and with full skirt.

Of filmy chiffon with the bouffant skirt shading from pink to deep orchid and tucked bodice, fashioned the lovely gown worn by Mrs. Gordon Jennings. Her sister, Mrs. Gordon Bernard Kjekstad wore black velvet with off-the-shoulder neckline and lace diamente trim. Mrs. Michael Jennings was in black striped taffeta with heliotrope trim.

A black taffeta gown with strapless bodice outlined with a band of French gold was worn by Mrs. Elsa Mayhew. Mrs. Gordon Abernethy chose bronze shot taffeta with large bow nu the one shoulder strap and full skirt

PERIOD GOWN

A period gown with full sweeping skirt of white taffeta and black lace strapless bodice complemented by a corsage of pink carnations and forget-me-nots was the choice of Mrs. W. F. Baker

Mrs. James D. Munro wore pearls with her simply cut gown of pink and silver brocade and Mrs. J. D'Arcy McGee was in smoke-toned net styled with off-the-shoulder neckline with a dusty pink ribbon encircling the full skirt.

An imported gown of white lace was the choice of Mrs. John Wade and Mrs. Denis Humphries was in cream satin brocade.

Mrs. Fred Manning wore black velvet strapless gown with strapless bodice and jet trim. Mrs H. Mearns was in black net with gold thread with full skirt and Mrs. Bill Mearns chose a gown of black satin bodice with full net overskirt appliqued in satin coin dots and a stole of the same coin dotted material.

Mrs. William Clark's pale green taffeta was styled with a one-strap fitted bodice and sequin trimmed full skirt with bustle. White crepe featuring off-the-shoulder neckline and full skirt was the choice of Mrs. Pat Dunn. Mrs. Bill Newcomb's gown of shot black taffeta was bouffant style. Soft rose taffeta with full net overskirt was the choice of Mrs. J. L. Howard. Mrs. Ronald Newell was in pale blue chiffon with the new accordion-pleated skirt. Mrs. Len Acres also chose blue in taffeta.

STRIPED WHITE SATIN

A full skirt of white satin striped taffeta and satin bodice with portrait neckline complemented by pearls was the ensemble worn by Mrs. Logan Mayhew.

A beautiful white taffeta gown with off-the-shoulder neckline and tiered skirt with pink roses at the neckline and on the skirt was worn by Mrs. T. Juelsberg, while Miss Veryan Yarrow chose a simply cut brocaded gown of pale turquoise blue.

A gown featuring a fitted gold metallic bodice and full black nylon net skirt was worn by Mrs. Chris Moore, while Mrs. D. A. Hewitt wore a gown of black velvet and black featuring lace over a net yoke with a ruffle, very full skirt and off-the-shoulder neckline. She wore a rhinestone bracelet to complete her ensemble.

Mrs. R. J. Wride wore a gown of beaded bronze net over taffeta with V-neckline and full skirt and for her jewelry she wore matching amethyst pendant and earrings.

White crepe with silver shoulder straps was the choice of Mrs. Whitworth Stanbury. The gown was cut on straight lines with gathering and fullness at the back.

Mrs George Dunlop wore a simply cut navy blue strapless gown with rhinestone necklace. A grey and peach printed gown was the choice of Mrs. G. Terry, which was styled with elbow-length sleeves, low neckline, pencil slim skirt with fullness at the back. To complete her outfit she wore peach flowers in her hair.

A pink brocaded gown with full skirt and wide paniers at the sides, with sweetheart neckline and wide shoulder straps was worn by Mrs. Arthur Burns, co-convener of the ball fant lines, and to complete her out-of Charteuse chiffon cut on bouffant lines, tnd to complete her outfit she wore a diamente necklace with matching earrings.

Filmy violet chiffon was the choice of Mrs Arthur Campbell. Her gown was styled with a pale blue belt, fitted bodice and very narrow shoulder straps and full skirt. Mrs. Kenneth Boorman wore a turquoise gown with a sequin trim cut on straight lines.

Cora Audet, R. Barclay Wed at Campbell River

CAMPBELL RIVER, Feb. 17.—A quiet wedding took place Saturday morning at the home of Rev. Father W. Fitzgerald, when Miss Cora Audet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Audet of Maria, Quebec, became the bride of Mr. Robert Barclay, eldest son of Mr and Mrs. Robert Barclay of Regina. The ceremony was performed by Father Fitzgerald.

The bride was attired in a tailored suit of maroon gabardine with navy blue accessories, and she wore a corsage of gardenias and stephanotis.

Miss Helen Audet, as her sister's only attendant, wore a dressmaker suit of heavy wine crepe with black accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

The groom was supported by Mr. Walter Uchak of Vancouver.

In the afternoon, a reception was held at the home of the bride's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Andre Audet. The bridal table was centred with a lovely three-tiered wedding cake, topped by silver bells and flanked by vases of daffodils. The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Audet.

Later, the couple left by motor for Regina where they will visit the groom's parents. From there they will proceed to Lethbridge, where they plan to make their home.

Two Pictures For School

Mrs. J. L. Gates was appointed National delegate at the recent meeting of Florence Nightingale Chapter, I.O.D.E., held at headquarters.

Conveners appointed were Mrs. G. Moody, hospital; Mrs. E. Crawford, child and family welfare; Mrs. B. Ripley, ex-service; Mrs. G. Pinhorn, Empire study; Miss N. Jones, membership; Mrs. H. Lethaby, immigration; Mrs. W. N. Lenfesty, flowers and cards, Mrs. V. Chadwick, program; Mrs. Moulson Smith, social and telephone.

It was decided to send two pictures of the Royal Family to an isolated school at Telegraph Creek.

It was also arranged for members of the Victoria Light Opera Company to provide musical entertainment for the patients of the Jubilee Pavilion today.

A St. Patrick's Day party will be held on March 16 at headquarters.

EGYPTIAN SIRENS

Egyptian women in the days of Cleopatra painted their lower eyelids green, and the upper lids, lashes and eyebrows black.

Hold Four-Man Panel

Sir James Douglas P.-T.A. held an interesting four-man panel discussion on "report cards" Tuesday evening at the regular meeting when Dr. Henrietta Anderson was chairman and members of the panel included Patricia Cann, student, Miss Christine McNab, teacher, Mrs. Mabel Reid, parent and Mr. Richard Reeve, school trustee.

Miss Beverley Husband, accompanied by Mrs. L. Dillabough, rendered several solos. Both are former pupils at the school.

A card party will be held on February 22 in the school auditorium at 8 p.m.

Open Meeting

An open meeting will be held by the St. John's Second Central Girl Guide Company at St. John's Church Hall, Quadra Street, today. All parents and friends are invited to attend.

To Entertain at Party After 5:30 This Evening

Social and Personal

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Dain Todd and Miss Marjorie Todd will entertain after 5 30 this evening at their home, 'Dainhurst.'

Rumor Studio Ponders Hotelman's Life Story

HEARD IN HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 17 (INS)—With the wedding of Elizabeth Taylor and Nicky Hilton all but formally announced for May, what could be more in the family than for Liz's home studio, M-G-M, to make the life story of Conrad Hilton, "The Man Who Bought the Waldorf?"

It's just at the rumor stage—but, after all, M-G-M made "Week-End at the Waldorf" and the story of Hilton, Mr. Big of the hotel world, is a natural follow-up.

As far as the marriage of the youngsters is concerned—it is certainly approved by both families. Conrad Hilton is crazy about Liz.

* * *

You have to be in the East to realize how important it is for actors to get out, actually meet the people and sell pictures! Believe me, it pays off.

VISITS 23 CITIES

Take John Payne. He made 23 cities in 24 days, traveled 15,000 miles by train, plane and car, appeared at 16 benefits and visited 14 hospitals in connection with "Captain China." His name is plenty big with Eastern exhibitors and that's for sure.

This is not lost on Bill Pine and Bill Thomas, who are giving him his biggest story in a long time in "Tripoli," co-starring with Maureen O'Hara.

Incidentally, these two were last seen in "Miracle on 34th Street." My old friend, Phil Reed, is also in this Technicolor thriller about the U.S. Marines in Tripoli—of course.

* * *

Humphrey Bogart is getting ready to put his boy, John Derek, to work as a full-fledged star in another Santana production—which is formal for Bogey's independent setup with Robert Lord.

The way the sub-debs go for Derek, I don't blame him. I think even Bogey was surprised over the terrific fan reaction to his discovery in "Knock on Any Door."

The new story is "The Secret" based on the novel by Marie Baumer and James Cavanaugh called "Everything Will Be All Right." John plays the son of a psychology professor who gets his family in scrape after scrape.

RANDOM SNAPSHOTS

Robert Paige, just separated from his wife, was at the encore with Donna Gibson, the former "Mrs. America" who just recently acquired her freedom.

Stewart Granger, straight off the plane from three months in Africa for "King Solomon's Mine," staged it at Ciro's with his agent, Milt Pickman.

Which reminds me that just before I dashed for the train in Chicago I ran into Stewart's co-star, Deborah Kerr, in the pump room. Deborah, of course, was with Tony Bartley — and they were just as happy about heading back to Hollywood as I was.

Also bumped into Mary and Jack Benny holding court. Jack is the king of hearts in the heart drive. He's a king anytime for my money.

Sure looked like old home week as I got my last glimpse of the pump room—Marian and Jim Jordan (Fibber McGee and Molly) were there on their way to Peoria for old home week.

Let me try once more to get this past a "typo". Evelyn Keyes DID know John Huston was getting a Mexican divorce. Sorry it appeared otherwise.

Frances and Sam Goldwyn get home Monday from four weeks in New York—but they won't linger long. After ten days they're off for Europe.

Jackie Coogan with his wife and brother, Robert, at the Kings. Remember when they were kids, and everybody thought Robert would rival Jackie?

Kirk Douglas takes his two small sons with him when he leaves for New York this week-end. Diana Douglas is already there trying to find an apartment for herself and the boys.

Read an interesting book coming out on the superchief, "The Crucible" by Colonel Yay, Philippine-American newspaper woman who fought with the guerrillas in Luzon after the Japs took over. It's a thriller.

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

Uncle Wiggily Story - - - By Howard Garis

EENIE RUNS AWAY

While Buster, Neddie and the other snow fort boys were getting ready to drive away Eenie the wolverine, Uncle Wiggily was watching Bunty and some of her girl chums make the snowman.

At last the snowman was finished. Bravely and boldly he stood back of Uncle Wiggily's garage, looking out through his black eyes, made from lumps of coal. He stuck out his red rag of a tongue and seemed to be laughing.

"He's almost alive, isn't he, Uncle Wiggily?" said Bunty as she put an old, tall, silk hat on the head of the snowman which Mr. Longears had let her use to keep the snowman from catching cold. "Isn't he almost alive, Uncle Wiggily?"

"Yes, Bunty, you could almost imagine that he would start walking over toward Buster's snow fort."

"Oh, yes, the snow fort!" exclaimed Bunty. "Let's go look at it now that we have finished the snowman."

"Oh yes, the snow fort!"

Uncle Wiggily hopped with Bunty and her friends toward the snow fort. When they came within sight of it they could see none of the boys.

"I wonder where they are?" said Bunty.

Just then a shower of snowballs came splattering over the top of the walls of the fort. And from inside the fort came shouts of:

"Snowball him! Hit him! Bang him on the nose!"

"Buster and his chums must be inside the fort," quacked Lulu, the tomboy duck.

"Who are they snowballing?" asked Jennie Chipmunk.

"I see! I see!" exclaimed Bunty, jumping up and down. "Look, Uncle Wiggily, there's Eenie the wolverine! He's trying to climb over the walls of the snow fort to get at the boys inside. Oh, Uncle Wiggily, what shall we do?"

"Hop back to the bungalow, Bunty," said Uncle Wiggily. "Tell Nurse Jane to telephone for Chief, the police dog. You girls go with Bunty. Eenie might turn and chase you."

"What are you going to do, Uncle Wiggily?" asked Bunty.

"I shall stay here, outside the fort, and I shall throw as many snowballs as I can at Eenie the wolverine," bravely answered the rabbit gentleman. "Quick, Bunty! Tell Nurse Jane to get Chief!"

"Y'all won't need to do that, Wiggy, suh!" called a voice back of Mr. Longears, Bunty and her chums. "Ah'll take care of Eenie. Ah'll make him run away."

"Oh, it's our snowman! Our snowman has come to the rescue!" shouted Bunty. And, for a moment, it did seem as if the snowman had come to life and was coming to the rescue. But, a moment later Uncle Wiggily shouted.

"Hurray! It's Mr. Whitewash, the polar bear."

"That's who Ah am, Wiggy, suh!" was the answer. "Ah'm a No'th Pole bear with a South Pole accent. An' heah's wheah Ah makes Eenie run!"

Mr Whitewash, the big polar bear, who, in his white fur suit did look something like a snowman, rushed at Eenie. The wolverine took one look and then, with a loud howl, away he ran. He was afraid of the polar bear.

"Thank you, Mr. Whitewash," said Buster and the other boys as they climbed over the walls of the snow fort.

There will be another Uncle Wiggily story Sunday if the coffee cake will make a cup of tea for the milk pitcher when it gets breakfast for the gas stove.

The time used is Pacific Standard for the 120th Meridian west. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the tables, the tide rises or falls continuously during intervening times between the high and low waters as given. 0.0 foot must be subtracted from the heights in these tables to conform with the datum of soundings.

The Cutlass Empire

By F. VAN WYCK MASON

"He—Harry slew them?" A stifled quality invaded the girl's voice. "Oh, no!"

"Colonel Mordaunt has posted a reward of one hundred pounds for the capture of your young gallant, alive or dead."

"Oh-h. Really? A whole hundred pounds?"

"Aye, Rissa. One hundred pounds to be paid in golden sovereigns. Wish I knew where to look."

"But, Pa, ain't a hundred pounds a great sum?" A new and thoughtful note had crept into Clarissa's voice. "Why, why, that would buy me a whole new wardrobe."

There remained no alternative course of action, so he swung legs over the sill thus gaining the storehouse shed.

In the streets enough people were about their affairs to permit Morgan to shake off pursuit before it could really take shape.

After striding along for nearly an hour, wondering where he could go now, he all at once entered what looked to be a familiar street.

Still seeking safety in boldness, Morgan pushed firmly along towards the newly painted blue, white and gold swingboard of "The Angel." He drew a deep breath, then boldly pushed open the tavern's sturdy, nail-studded door and swung into an inner gloom redolent of beer, rum and good food.

By sheer good fortune there were, at this slack hour, but a pair of patrons present conversing or doing business amicably over tall ale jacks of waxed leather.

"Lord's mercy! You!" Dame Pruett's sharp black eyes treated him to a single searching look which then flickered over to the entrance. To an all but imperceptible jerk of her head she indicated that open trap door which, Harry knew well enough, gave access to the widow's wine cellar.

Depressed, hungry, and chilled, Morgan ensconced himself behind a row of Swedish aquavit barrels and after refreshing himself with a pull of that fiery liquor settled down to wait. Half an hour he spent starting every time a stool thumped just above his head. The rats squeaked, took alarm a moment before the cellar door opened and Anne's characteristic light tread sounded on the ladder steps. The golden glow of a candle preceded Anne, created a hundred weird shadows.

"Ah, there, Anne, dear," he began softly. "I pray you'll overlook my delay in returning to crave your forgiveness. I vow I—"

Because she came fluttering up to him with a warning finger held to her wide mouth the words died on his lips. Her eyes, he saw were entirely ringed with white, and her cheeks devoid of color. She was in extreme terror. "God help us, Harry. At this very minute soldiers are surrounding the inn. Ma says she expects they'll commence a immediate search."

Now from upstairs rang many harsh voices, then followed the crash of an overturned bench and startled outcries. "You, over yonder, stand steady!"

"Here, Quickly! Quickly!"

By the candle's dancing light Anne's eyes looked rounder than ever while he helped her shove aside the heavy wooden lid of a big wine tun. She peered in, seemed satisfied at the level of the liquid. "Get in, Harry! Quick, quick for your life!"

Stocks Roll Ahead at New York In One of Year's Big Advances

By Associated Press

The New York Stock Market rolled ahead for one of the largest advances of the year yesterday.

Demand for railway issues touched off a steady flow of buying orders that soon spilled over into other major groups, notably airlines, steels, and motors. Utilities didn't do so well.

Leading issues closed with gains of fractions to around two points. Strong hope for quick settlement of the coal strike was the mainspring of the buying movement.

Turnover fell just short of 2,000,000 shares. Sales of 1,940,000 shares compared with 1,920,000 Thursday.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced .7 of one point to 73.9. The advance was matched in size once this year on February 12, and exceeded once on January 4.

Rails and industrials accounted entirely for the rise. The utility section was unchanged on average.

PRICES FIRM

At Toronto prices slowly firmed from early weakness. Volume was about 750,000 shares.

Western oils were among the best gainers, advancing strongly at the opening but weakening from their best gains in mid-session.

Industrials were weak for most of the day but a late recovery movement in key issues wiped out many losses. Steels were strong and a few refining oils and papers brightened. Foods slumped in a one-way downward movement.

Base metals moved well ahead in early trading but settled at the half-way mark. Golds moved at a snail's pace.

ADVANCES DOMINATE

Advances dominated the list in fairly active trading near the final hour on the Montreal Stock Exchange and Curb Market. Volume showed industrials with 85,500 shares traded and mines 63,100 shares.

Papers, the industrial section, base metals, senior oils and utilities were strong in the selected group, followed by beverages and steels, but banks were weaker. Mines and Western oils were irregular and showed a mixed tone.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE

NEW YORK, Feb. 17 (CP). — The Canadian dollar was up 1-16 of a cent at a discount of 9⅞ per cent in terms of United States funds in mid-day foreign exchange dealings today. The pound sterling was unchanged at $2.80⅛.

Stormy Weather Across Canada Brings Light Cattle Deliveries

OTTAWA, Feb. 17 (CP)—Stormy weather across Canada resulted in light deliveries of cattle during the week, the agricultural department reported today in its weekly livestock review.

A good domestic and export demand forced prices up 50 cents to $1 or more. Under the increased export demand, appreciable numbers of slaughter cattle were taken from Ontario and a larger amount of feeder cattle from the Western provinces.

Most calf and lamb prices showed firmness although there was little actual change in price. Hog markets showed only minor fluctuations in price.

AT TORONTO

Toronto offered and sold 5,200 cattle, a light offering due to storm conditions. Some good to choice weighty steers were taken at $24-$25, a few prime at $27, good to choice light steers at $21.50-$23, and good heifers $21-$22. Good cows were weighed out at $16.50-$17.50, and good export bulls $19-$19.50. Fed yearlings were taken at $21-$25.

At Montreal 1,697 cattle were handled under a good demand, with prices 50 cents to $1 higher on all grades. Some medium light steers sold at $16-$21.50, a load of choice heavy steers $24, good $22.50-$23.75, and good cows $16-$18, with medium $14.50-$15.50.

GOOD CLEARANCE

Cattle for sale at Winnipeg totaled only 3,900 head and a good clearance was in sight toward the close. Trade was active under a good export demand, with steers showing the most advance and establishing a record high for a February market. Choice steers were priced at $23-$23.50, good $21-$22.50, and mediums $19-$20. Good cows crossed the scales at $15.50-$16.50, and good bulls were taken at $18-$19. Calgary had 2,483 cattle, mostly medium to good slaughter stock and good stocker and feeder cattle.

EDMONTON RECEIPTS

Cattle receipts at Edmonton totaled 2,343, all sold. Receipts were mostly medium and lower grades, with only a few good and choice on offer. Action, however, was good at steady to firm values, with shipping resumed to Vancouver. Choice steers brought $22.50-$23, good cows sold at $15-$16.50, mediums $14-$15, and canners $9-$12.

Stocker and feeder demand continued good as in previous weeks and substantial numbers were shipped to the United States. Toronto paid $18-$19.50 for some good feeders, while Winnipeg had good feeder steers at $21-$23 under a good demand. Edmonton sold at $15-$20.

PRICES UNCHANGED

Calf prices for most markets were unchanged but continued firm. Toronto sold good to choice veals at $29-$32, Montreal from $28-$30 and Winnipeg $25-$28. At Edmonton, good veals rated $22-$24.

Only minor fluctuations occurred in the hog market during the week. Toronto paid $27.50 for grade "A" hogs, while Montreal was on a basis of $27.25 early but finally cleared supplies at $27. Winnipeg showed little or no change, with Grade "A" hogs to butchers at $26.50 and Packers' bids at $26. Edmonton sold Grade "A" at $27.25.

London Market Continues Rise

LONDON, Feb. 17 (Reuters). — There was quiet cheerfulness in most sections of the London Stock Exchange at the close of the week.

Leading industrial issues made further upward progress today although the pace was slower than of late. The feature of the section was a gain of 6 points in Cable and Wireless ordinary stock at 275 following the details of the revised reconstruction scheme.

Recent favorites such as electrical equipments and building shares were again wanted.

British Government stocks were hesitant and inclined lower in an idle market.

Japanese bonds came under fire from sellers on a report from Tokio that the Japanese had not the funds necessary to resume debt service or redemption. Losses of two points were fairly widespread.

Hopes of "real understanding" in the Anglo-United States dollar oil talks assisted the oil share section to hold a scattered firmness.

Says Britain Eager to Buy From Canada

VANCOUVER, Feb. 17 (CP)—T. A. Storey of London said here today that the United Kingdom is willing and anxious to buy Canadian products, but it must be able to sell in Canada.

Mr. Storey is chairman of the Timber Development Association of Great Britain, a 1,400-member association which acts as a research and education medium of the industry.

"We are willing and anxious to buy British Columbia lumber, fish and other products," he said, "but we must sell you something to raise the dollars."

TWO-WAY TRADE

He said there must be two-way trade, and he said: "There is no question in my mind, the British lumber trade is anxious to buy in Canada. It is a matter of lasting regret that we cannot buy more. When we buy from British Columbia we know what we are getting."

He said the large-scale use of substitute building materials in the United Kingdom was a danger facing B.C.-U.K. lumber trade.

Mr. Storey spoke at a luncheon of the B.C. Lumber Manufacturers' Association.

Prices Lower In December

OTTAWA, Feb 17 (CP)—Wholesale sales in December were 14 per cent lower than in November, the Bureau of Statistics reported today.

A preliminary survey showed, however, that total 1949 wholesale trade was 3 per cent higher than in 1948.

The bureau's index of wholesale sales, based on 1935-39 equals 100, was 263.3 compared with 306.7 in November and 250.9 in December, 1948.

Three Leaders Hold Positions In Tenpin Loop

HOW THEY STAND

	Won	Lost
Colonist	40	23
Manning Lumber	36	27
Pratt & Lambert	36	27
Imperials	31	32
Dominion Meat	29	34
Argosy Coffee Shop	28	35
Eagles	26	37
Beavers	26	37

The three top teams in the Commercial Tenpin League retained their positions at the Arcade Alleys Thursday, all scoring 2-1 wins. The leading Colonist entry won the first and last games against Argosy Coffee Shop while Pratt & Lambert downed Dominion Meat and Manning Lumber beated Eagles to remain in a second-place tie, four games off the pace.

Beavers moved up into a seventh-place tie by upsetting Imperials in a sweep. Keith Twamley sparked the city's youngest tenpin team with a new personal high of 573 on games of 171, 203 and 199.

Eddie Borde was next to Twamley with 547 and wound up with 222 for the night's high single. Scoring, as usual, was low with only five other bowlers reaching 500—George Robertson, 508; Bob Greenwood, 507; Doug Smith, 504; George Brown, 501, and Bob Mair, 500.

Tiremen Win 5-4 From Eager Co-ops

Walt Jensen Scores Winning Goal After Fishmen Rally To Tie Count

HOW THEY STAND

	W.	L.	T.	F.	A.	Pts.
Douglas Tire	13	3	0	83	54	26
Fishermen's Co-Op	11	4	4	60	46	26
Navy	10	8	2	60	60	22
Hotelmen	6	9	3	51	60	15
Civil Service	4	11	0	44	77	18
B.O.P.	3	16	0	46	94	6

Next games, Tuesday, 9 a.m.

As was expected, Douglas Tire and Fishermen's Co-Op waged a bitter battle for first place in Commercial Hockey League standings at Memorial Arena last night.

When the final, hard-hitting period was over, it was the Tiremen who had squeezed out a narrow 5-4 victory, thanks to Walt Jensen's breakaway goal with less than four minutes left in the game. Official paid attendance was announced at 2,615.

LAST-MINUTE GOAL

Civil Service dropped a tough, 4-3 decision to the third-place Navy squad on Cliff Coulter's last-minute talley. The G-Men saw their play-off hopes dwindle still further in the final tussle when Hotelmen defeated a scrappy young B.O.P. squad 5-3 with Jimmy Gallant and Lyn Norbury firing home the winning counters after Gordy Parks had tied the score at 3-3 midway through the third period.

Douglas Tire swarmed all over the Co-Ops as play started. After 10 minutes they owned a 3-0 lead on markers by Len Elphick, Walt Jensen and Ernie Pearce. Fred Ritchie made it 4-0 in the opening seconds of the second stanza before Ed Varga finally flashed the red light for the Fishmen.

CROWD-STIRRING RALLY

Taking the upper hand, Co-Ops put on a crowd-stirring rally in the final session and deadlocked the score with Con McBeth, Wilf Clarke and Ed Deutcher denting the twine. The latter two counters came with Frank Warshawski sitting out a kneeing penalty.

Warshawski stepped back on the ice just in time to relay the pass that enabled Jensen to break out in the clear and lift the rubber past Goalie Derek McCooey. McCooey was called up from Victoria junior All-Stars with regular net-minder John Dorey away for the remainder of the season.

VARGA INJURED

Varga, the loop's scoring leader, suffered a torn ligament in his left leg in the last period and may be lost to the Fishmen for several games.

Panama Hats in Rain

Bronzed Athletes Met By Crowd of Admirers

The first homecoming contingent of Canada's 63-athlete British Empire Games team — a band of 35 bronzed athletes—was greeted by typical Vancouver weather as they disembarked at Vancouver Airport yesterday. The quick switch from New Zealand's Summer to Canada's Winter left the team improperly clad in their Panama hats and flannels as they stepped from the plane into a driving rain.

The group, that included Bill Parnell, Canada's only record-breaker at the Games, had the honor of being passengers on a record-breaking flight from Honolulu to Vancouver. They were met on arrival by a crowd of approximately 300 admirers, including Mayor Charles Thompson of Vancouver, Mayor Frank Goldsworthy of North Vancouver, and Bob Osborne, president of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada. The group was paraded through downtown Vancouver and Goldsworthy declared a half-holiday for high school students in Parnell's suburb.

PLANS REST

Parnell said the win "felt pretty good," but added, "I'm going to take a good rest before attending Summer school."

Bruce Humber, track and field coach, expressed his pleasure but regretted that he could not leave immediately for Victoria. He was in charge of the party and will have to start Eastern athletes on their cross-country journey. He had an added problem with the delayed arrival of the luggage which is a day behind schedule.

"ROBBED"

Boxer Eddie Haddad, who suffered only the second loss of his career, expressed his disappointment and stated that his injured shoulder had bothered him. He believed his unorthodox southpaw style puzzled the judges. Flyweight Len Walters said, "I was robbed."

Divers Lynda Adams Hunt and Dr. George Athans both confirmed that they had made their last competitive appearances.

Gloves Card Requires Fast Action

A total of 36 entries will mean at least 25 bouts to decide the Vancouver Island Silver Gloves championships at Bay Street Armoury tonight. First bout will start at 7.30 and continuous action will be required to finish the card by midnight.

The featherweight and welterweight champions were decided last night without the necessity of any bouts. George Vaughan of Glenlyon School was the only entrant in the 118-pound class and Bill Rogers of St. Louis College was the only contestant in the latter division.

Tonight's draw follows:

60-70 pounds: B. Pederson (St. Louis College) vs. H. Richardson (James Bay); G. Caldwell (J.B.) vs. J. Ford (Duncan); H. Doucette (Alberni) vs. B. McLaren (J.B.); R. Copley (North Ward) vs. M. Cheeman (S.L.C.).

80-90 pounds: Frankie Copley (N.W.) vs. Brian O'Hara (S.L.C.); Lloyd Button (J.B.) vs. Billy Hamilton (Alberni).

70-80 pounds: G. Gladstone (Esquimalt) vs. B. Hamilton (Alberni); Eddie Fairless (Esq.) bye.

90-98 pounds: J. Woods (Esq.) vs. B. Thompson (S.L.C.); O. Blanert (Esq.) vs. R. Crossland (Alberni).

90-100 pounds: J. Lambert (Nanaimo) vs. O. Parker (N.W.); J. Golden (Alb.) vs. M. Quaile (Esq.); F. Curtis (S.L.C.) vs. K. Johnstone (Esq.); Bernard Memeoe (Esq.) bye.

Flyweight: H. Williams (Dun.) vs. B. Thomson (S.L.C.); J. McLeod (N.W.) vs. T. Tabouney (Esq.).

Bantamweight: Wynn Robertson (Esq.) vs. J. Berrone (Dun.).

Lightweight: O. Lambert (Esq.) vs. E. Calverley (N.W.).

The first world billiards tournament was played in Paris in 1903.

Totems Score Third Victory

"Buzz" Hudson sparked the Victoria High Totems to their third straight win in the round-robin cage tourney between the larger educational institutions of the city last night, pushing up 11 points as the High School squad defeated the Normal School quintette 31-27.

Fletcher's Men's Wear took a 46-44 decision from Victoria College in an exhibition game. In the preliminary girl's game, the Normal School quintette defeated the Victoria High girls 25-13.

An interesting highlight of the evening was provided by three two-minute round boxing bouts between games. Archie Sillars took a decision from Cliff Clarke in the feature, while Bob Blake scored a T.K.O. over Keith Mitchum and Griffs Lane and Ian Parker battled to a draw.

Line-ups and scores:

V.H.S. Totems: Rose 1, Hendry 6, Parker 6, Hudson 11, Garner, Woollett 7, Roth, Forbes, Zarry, Oakley, McIntosh. Total 31.

Normal School: Wright 11, Oakley, Ezzel 12, Wayling 3, Bewster, Barby, Stalton, Senderson, O'Brien, Sales 1, Munro 1. Total 27.

Fletcher's: McCorkall 8, B. Bamford, O. Damford 12, Andgrove 8, Wills 10, Geissers 4, Robinson 4. Total 46.

Victoria High Girls: Cockburn 6, Mason 3, Lees, Budson 6, Williams, Whitten 2, McGillivray, Wright, Keskl, Beaner, Pickering. Total 13.

Three Games Set

Three exhibition basketball games will be played at Saanichton Agricultural Hall tonight.

Y.M.C.A. midget boys will tangle with Saanichton pee-wee girls in the opening contest at 7:30, followed at 8:15 by a contest between Saanichton midget girls and Saanichton junior girls. The feature contest pits the Intermediate "A" Elks of the Victoria and District Basketball League against Saanichton senior "C" men.

Faces "Y" Cagers

JIM RANSON

Coach Art Chapman's Y.M.C.A. cagers will be out to break season-long jinx of being unable to gain more than one-game advantage over Arrow Furniture quintette at Victoria High School gymnasium tonight. Clubs meet in fourth game of best-of-five series for city senior "A" men's crown. "Y" leads two games to one and victory tonight will give them second successive title. Ranson, sidity forward, will be seen in action with Arrows.

Legion Faces Strong Line-Up In Game Today

Alcos may have trailed throughout the Victoria and District Football Association's pre-Christmas schedule but they are going all out to win some of the silverware for their shelves.

Officials of the club last night announced a line-up for today's consolation Phoenix Cup game against Legion that includes several veterans of coast league and city senior action. Among them are Alvin Parks, former Victoria United and Nanaimo star; Jack Evans and Fred Smith, ex-Nanaimo players; Bob Harris and Frank Slogar, who performed with defunct V.M.D. XI, and George Pickup, who will be facing his former mates.

Game time is 2:30 at Heywood Avenue.

Today's other V.D.F.A. action pits Victoria West against Oak Bay in a Garrison Cup semi-final match at Lower Beacon Hill at 2:30.

Line-ups follow:

Alcos—Evans, Deer-Masters, McGay, Jagger, Day, Lowden, Nichol, Heppinstall, O'Connell, McMoreland, Ross, Askinrines, Harris, Pickup, Patterson, Parks, Slogar and Smith.

Legion—Purcell, Pearce, Hardy, Fallon, Main, Potter, Moss, Coles, Conmebis, Rice, Davison, Robinson, Robbins, Waring, Little, Cassie, Carson, McCormick and Wallis.

Plan New League

Organization plans of a junior baseball league, comprising three Duncan teams and one Chemainus club, will be discussed at a general meeting at the Duncan Eagles Hall tomorrow at 8.00 p.m. One of the Duncan squads will be composed of Indians.

Fairways Improving Daily

Conditions Near Normal On City's Golf Courses

Things are looking much better for Victoria golfers and golf clubs these days after the most disastrous two months in recent history.

All courses are being played and conditions and business are improving daily, much to the satisfaction of club secretaries, who had little revenue to take care of through the late, but not lamented, cold spell.

If the weather remains reasonable, Sunday is expected to bring out hordes of the city's impatient divot-diggers, most of whom are wearing an unusual pallor after their enforced stay.

ALMOST NORMAL

A survey of the area's four major courses yesterday disclosed that conditions are almost normal at the Victoria and Uplands Golf Clubs while Gorge Vale and Colwood are being played.

Golf has been played for the past ten days on the Oak Bay links while regular greens have been in use for a week. Fairways are in good conditions with a few wet spots. Conditions are practically the same at Uplands, where officials reported regular greens would all be in play today and that fairway conditions are excellent. Greens at both courses are in good condition although some will remain a bit on the rough side until such time as they can be clipped.

USE TEMPORARY GREENS

Gorge Vale reports all holes playable but that temporary greens will be used for another week. Pro Joe Pryke stated that the course had come through in fine shape and that he expected the greens would be as good as ever within the week. Fairways are also in good condition although dampish in some of the lower spots.

Hardest hit by the rugged Winter, Colwood is coming out of it nicely. Manager Derek Rhys-Jones reported yesterday that ten holes are being played and that there is every hope that the other eight will be playable within another week. The first nine have been the slowest to clear and the first six and the ninth holes are still unplayable. Members will be starting at the seventh over the week-end and can play in from there, skipping only the ninth and 18th. Temporary greens are in use on the 11th and 13th.

Homecoming Of Salmon

Peter Salmon, who gave Canada its first victory at the recent British Empire Games, received sad news on his return yesterday.

He was informed of the death of his mother, Mrs. Ina Helen Salmon, upon his arrival at Vancouver Airport, and left immediately for Victoria on a special plane. His sister, Ina, attending University of Washington, also arrived home by plane last night.

BRIEF ILLNESS

Mrs. Salmon's death came unexpectedly after a brief illness. She was keenly interested in her children's sports activities and was well known in teaching and music circles. She was teaching in South Park and Craigflower schools until taken ill on Monday.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 1:30 p.m. from Hayward's B.C. Funeral Parlors.

Mayor Percy E. George announced last night that the scheduled civic welcome for Peter and Bruce Humber, coach of the Canadian B.E.G. track and field team, has been postponed.

Close Contests Expected At Inter-City Swim Gala

The Victoria Amateur Swimming Club will return to intercity competition tonight when it entertains the Vancouver Amateur Swimming Club in a gala at Crystal Garden at 7 o'clock.

While it lacks representation in the senior women's events, the Victoria club boasts a strong senior men's squad and well-balanced strength in the junior and juvenile boys' and girls' events. The host club will be looking to its younger members for enough points to make up for the lack of points in the senior women's division to turn the tide of victory.

COMPACT PROGRAM

An added attraction will be the appearance of Ed Kelter's ever-popular Pro Rec group in a dazzling display of aerial acrobatics.

A compact two-hour program for all divisions has been arranged with free style events predominating. The only variation is a 50-yard breast stroke event for senior men. Ernie Massick and Bill Doddridge will carry the host club's hopes against Vancouver's top trio of Terry Connally, Ron Crain and Malcolm McKenzie.

VISITORS' ADVANTAGE

The clubs will be evenly matched in the senior men's 200-yard free style relay with two teams each, but the visitors have a decided advantage in numbers in the junior men's and women's relays. Vancouver has entered four teams in the junior women's relay and two in the junior men's event, while the host club has only one team in each.

Program follows:

1—50-Yard free style, junior women
2—50-Yard free style, junior men
3—50-Yard breast stroke, senior men.
4—50-Yard free style, girls under 12
5—25-Yard free style, boys under ten.
6—100-Yard free style, senior women.
7—50-Yard free style, girls under 14.
8—Pro Rec display
9—100-Yard free style, senior men
10—25-Yard free style, girls under ten.
11—50-Yard free style, boys under 14.
12—50-Yard free style, senior women.
13—50-Yard free style, boys under 12
14—200-Yard free style relay, junior women
15—200-Yard free style relay, junior men
16—200-Yard free style relay, senior men

City Girl Wins Bronze Medal In Blade Test

Petite Lorraine Stocker was awarded a bronze medal in the first tests of the Victoria Figure Skating Club at Memorial Arena on Wednesday. Judges were Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wickson of Vancouver and J. Kilgour of Winnipeg, now a resident of the city.

Miss Stocker also ranked first in preliminary tests. Others passing the preliminary tests were Betty McNiven, Maureen Humphries, Gelena Pipes, Ken Tomlinson, Mary Jane Cahill, Marilyn Ivings, Peggy McNiven, Janice Brinkwood, Ron Tomlinson and Evelyn Lattice.

Contestants were complimented on their diligent work and success in so short a time under the coaching of Lois Hardy, club professional.

Illegal Hunters Blamed for Killing Millions of Ducks, Geese Last Year

By DOUG PEDEN

Some staggering figures were quoted early this week in Washington by Albert M. Day, director of the Fish and Wildlife Service, as he made an appeal to Congress for an increase in the personnel of his department.

In reply to questions, Day said that about 30,000,000 of the estimated 55,000,000 migratory waterfowl that wintered in the United States last year—mostly ducks and geese—were killed or crippled.

MANY CRIPPLED

"Around 17,000,000 were shot down legally and about 8,000,000 illegally with about 5,000,000 crippled," he said.

Day didn't think the remaining 25,000,000 birds left to go back to the breeding grounds constituted a big enough proportion to ensure ample shooting for the future.

Outdoor enthusiasts, Senators and Government officials attending the Senate subcommittee hearing agreed that the illegal hunter is making it tough for the law-abiding sportsman to enjoy good shooting. They also agreed that the solution is to double, at least, the number of Federal enforcement officers.

The problem—where to get the money?

At the same time, the Provincial Game Department of British Columbia is facing a proposed reduction in its annual budget.

SPORTSMEN RALLY

Fish and Game sportsmen are rallying strongly to protest the possible budget slash and have the whole-hearted support of Dr. Ian McTaggart Cowan, British Columbia's outstanding wild-life authority, and several legislators in their effort to secure, for Game Department use, all monies received under the Game Act.

The question of finances is hardly a selfish problem of the hunting and fishing population, but is one that interests the whole province.

More than 9,000 persons are actively employed in hunting and fishing, including trappers, guides and resort owners. Millions of United States dollars are brought into British Columbia each year by tourists, who are attracted by wildlife in the province.

FISHING POORER

After several good weeks, steelhead fishing in the Cowichan River is dropping off a bit. According to reports, snow is melting quicker and water is becoming discolored. Continued warm weather may make things difficult for the steelheaders.

Ken Patterson pulled three fish, averaging 7½ pounds, out of the river Monday. J. W. Auchinachie of Gibbons Road, Duncan is leading the Cowichan Fish and Game Club's steelhead Derby.

Grilse fishing in Cowichan Bay is at a peak with a few Winter springs also being boated. Don Peck, well-know Bay resident, says there should be little trouble landing a grilse limit in a couple of hours. Peck suggests a No. 4 Tom Mack with a No. 3 nickel flasher as the best lure.

Crofton and Saanich Inlet are also giving up limit catches of grilse. Art Hall reports that the Goldstream end of the inlet is now clear of ice and the road to his boathouse is offering no trouble to motorists.

Remember When—

June nine years ago tonight Boston Bruins ran an unbeaten streak to 22 games by holding the Toronto Maple Leafs to a 5-5 draw. This improved a National Hockey League record they established five days earlier when they broke New York Rangers' mark of 19 undefeated games set in the 1939-40 season. Bruins extended their streak another game—to 23—before being stopped by the Rangers.

By GRANTLAND RICE

A California horse by the name of Your Host is expected to gallop off with the $100,000 Santa Anita Derby today.

This is what California experts are predicting in large numbers. If this happens, California will be ready to back Your Host, owned by William Goetz—L. B. Mayer's son-in-law—against the pick of the East, South and Midwest.

They are very high on Your Host here in the Golden State. Your Host has already run away with two $50,000 races, winning each by many lengths. He is a trifle cockeyed and more than a trifle wry-necked, but he can run.

They are so keen about Your Host in California that I finally turned to a real expert, named Eddie Arcaro.

MAY BE DREAMING

"Yes," Arcaro said, "Your Host is fast. I ought to know. I've been looking at his rear end often enough. But what's he been beating? What horse has pulled alongside and looked him in the eye? Now, if he had been whipping Theory, Middleground, Hill Prince or Oil Capitol, that would be something different. I'm not so sure Your Host will win the Santa Anita Derby if some other horse will only move alongside. I can be all wrong here. I know he's fast, but Californians have been looking for another Kentucky Derby winner so long they may be dreaming a little.

"Here's what I'm going by. I chased Your Host home on a horse named Great Circle. We closed some ground. But Great Circle doesn't belong on the same track with Middleground, Hill Prince and others. I've seen them run. I know what they can do. Nobody knows what Your Host can do against tough competition. Even if he wins the Derby here that won't prove he is going to pick up another $100,000 at Churchill Downs in May. No Santa Anita Derby winner has ever bagged the Blue Grass show."

"How would you rate Middleground, Hill Prince, Theory and Oil Capitol?" I asked.

GREAT PROSPECTS

"I couldn't rate 'em," was Eddie's reply. "I haven't seen them run as three-year-olds. But I can tell you this—Hill Prince, Theory and Middleground look to be three great prospects. They can all run and I believe they can all stick. I don't know much about Oil Capitol, but they tell me he is better than good. If these four keep in shape, with the others that come along, this 1950 Derby in Louisville will be a great one. And maybe I'm wrong about Your Host. I just want to see him hooked up with a real runner."

BETTER THAN LAST YEAR

Arcaro is now 34 years old. He never looked better. "I'm all set at 108 pounds," he said, "and I feel fit. I think I'm riding better than I did last year. Santa Anita is practically a new track and it takes knowing. Last year my main battle was with young Glisson and Longden. It's much tougher this Winter. Glisson is as good as ever. Longden is about the same. But a kid named Willie Boland, an apprentice from the King Ranch Stables, is another Glisson. Willie Shoemaker is another crack kid. So is Gene Lamwell. These young fellows won't let you make a mistake. They are all keen and ambitious with bright futures to face and this keeps them hustling. Boland is one of the best I've seen in a long time. You think you have a race won," Arcaro continued, "and take it easy for a second or two. When you do one of these kids is on your neck."

FLORIDA IN MARCH

I asked Eddie how long he had been riding. "Just 18 years," he said. "I suppose I could ride for eight or ten years more, but I don't think I'd like to keep at it that long. Even 25 years is a long time to keep in the saddle. For example, I like to play golf. What chance do I get? Racing takes up 198 days in New York and 55 days out here. I can't play 18 holes of golf and sit on five or six horses in one day. I have to watch my diet, both food and drink, all the time. I once got to 118 pounds and I thought I'd never lose those ten or 11 pounds. I slip out to a driving course and hit a barrel of balls now and then to keep my swing working, but rarely get to play. I'm heading for Florida the first week in March just to play golf and loaf for three weeks.

ROUGHER THAN FOOTBALL

"Anyone who thinks that being a jockey is a soft life is crazy. It's rougher than pro or college football, and the mental side is tougher than the physical. The greatest horse I ever rode? I never rode a horse that moved faster than Citation when you called on him—I mean Citation as a three-year-old. He was a bolt of lightning."

Arcaro definitely has his eye on the jockey championship for 1950. He has been out in front at Santa Anita most of the season and he is looking to an even greater season on New York's busy tracks this Spring and Summer.

Your Host Tops Santa Anita Field

ARCADIA, Cal., Feb. 17 (INS)—Your Host, an unsung ugly duckling as a youngster, but now acclaimed as the best colt ever produced in California, was odds-on favorite today to win the $100,000 Santa Anita Derby, feature race of tomorrow's Santa Anita card.

Your Host, already a winner of three stakes and $123,970 for owner William Goetz, topped a field of 13 three-year-olds named for the mile-and-one-eighth run.

Island Radiators added a game to its lead in the Mixed Tenpin League, Thursday night, by taking a 2-1 decision from Automotive Parts at Gibson's Bowladrome while Happy Gang dropped from second into a fourth-place tie by losing all three to Cameo Cafe. Ivings Garage and Harknett Fuel moved up to share the runner-up berth with odd game wins over Lucky Strikes and Times, respectively.

Harry Stuart topped the scoring as he fell one point shy of 600 with games of 195, 191 and 213. Jane Munn put together games of 192, 177 and 178 to lead the women trundlers with 547.

Four Marksmen From Island In Expert Class

Forty Canadian marksmen, including seven from British Columbia, have qualified for the Expert Shield, Canada's highest award for sporting rifle shooting.

E. Conner of the C.N. Rifle Club of Vancouver led all marksmen with a score of 5,960 out of 6,000, edging out J. L. MacAninch of Brantford, Ontario, by three points.

Four of the seven British Columbia shots to qualify were from Vancouver Island. Frank Denton of the Nanaimo Rifle Club posted a score of 5,924 and clubmate Howard Ormond scored 5,920. C. McLeod, Port Sharpshooters, Port Alberni, scored 5,921 and Olah Frederickson of Sooke Rifle Club had 5,901.

Other B.C. qualifiers were W. E. Harmeling and C. J. Headrick, both of the C.N. Rifle Club of Vancouver, with 5,918 and 5,934 respectively.

Kelowna Win Protested By Clippers

KELOWNA, B.C., Feb. 17 (CP)—A goal scored during a flurry of action at the end of last night's M.O.A.H.L. game here is the basis of a protest officially filed today by Nanaimo Clippers.

Manager Blair Cook claims the goal was scored before the game ended, but the referees ruled otherwise, leaving the count at 3-2 in favor of Kelowna Packers.

The largest crowd of the season let loose with a terrific roar when the clock pointed to the end of the game, drowning out the bell. Play didn't stop until the red light flashed in the Kelowna net.

Observers here see little chance of the protest standing, but it may result in a larger and louder bell being installed.

Ring Finals Set For May 18-20

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., Feb. 17 (CP).—The Dominion amateur boxing finals will be held here next May 18-20, Lethbridge Amateur Boxing Association officials decided last night.

Officials said three provinces, Prince Edward Island, Nova Scotia and Saskatchewan, had already signified intention to send their provincial champions.

Officials believed that some of the boxers to take part are Canada's representatives in the British Empire Games held in New Zealand earlier this month.

The Lethbridge Chamber of Commerce will support the event.

Royals, Senators Meet in Play-Off

Royals and Senators will meet in a sudden-death city junior hockey play-off contest at Memorial Arena at 7 a.m. tomorrow. The game will be followed by a practice of the all-star squad.

First game of a home-and-home total-goal series between Nanaimo and Victoria for the Island juvenile title will be played Monday. Winner of the series will represent the Island against the Vancouver champions in the next round of the provincial playdowns. Victoria will be represented by an all-star club picked from the six city squads.

Puck Rivals Battle to Stalemate

Probably greatest rivalry in National Hockey League is that between Toronto Maple Leafs and Montreal Canadiens. Each contest is marked by stiff bodychecking and rugged action and bruises are handed out aplenty. Clubs met in Toronto Thursday and battled to 3-3 tie as Leafs protected two-point margin over third-place Canadiens. Goalie Bill Durnan (in horizontal position) of Canadiens is shown as he saved point-blank shot by Toronto's Max Bentley. Others shown are: Canadiens' Roger Leger (partly hidden by Bentley) and Gren Harmon (in background) and Vic Lynn (14) of Leafs.

Maxim Given Big Reception In Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Feb. 16 (AP)—Handsome Joey Maxim rode happily down the main stem in a snow-pelted open convertible yesterday as thousands cheered the second world boxing champion in the city's history.

Joey had come home from England, where he won the light-heavyweight title from Freddie Mills. No sooner was he off the train than he was bustled to a ceremony and Acting Mayor Lee Howley expressed the town's thanks.

Then, after a parade, Maxim got down to cases about his future.

"I am going to take a rest now," he said, "but I want to get on Joe Louis' trail as quickly as possible. In our book, he's got the title and he's the boy I want to meet."

The question is whether Louis will refuse to emerge from retirement.

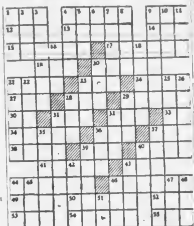

Carpet Bowling

The following games are scheduled for next week in the Capital City and District Carpet Bowling League.

ANSWER TO YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE

Culbertson on Bridge

(Copyright, 1950, by Ely Culbertson)

Good technique at no-trump contracts often consists of putting the intermediate cards to the best possible use. Observe the expert declarer's procedure in today's deal.

South, dealer.

Neither side vulnerable

NORTH
♠ 7 6 4 3
♥ A 10 2
♦ Q 8 5
♣ A 10 4

WEST
♠ K Q J 8
♥ J 7 3
♦ 10 4 3
♣ J 7 6

EAST
♠ 10
♥ Q 8 5 4
♦ 9 7 6 2
♣ Q 8 8 2

SOUTH
♠ A 9 5 2
♥ K 9 6
♦ A K J
♣ K 5 3

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 N.T.	Pass	2 N.T.	Pass
3 N.T.	Pass	Pass	Pass

Since South had a maximum one-no-trump opening (under Culbertson system requirements) and North had an excellent raise, it would seem that there should have been no difficulty in acquiring nine tricks in the play! Indeed, if North-South had been point-counters, I suppose they would have simply "relaxed" in the "knowledge" that with 26 points (or even 25) needed for game, their total of 28 points would put them on easy street! The cards, however, are no respecters of formulas, and South had to watch himself!

West opened the spade king. South held up the ace, and West continued the suit, East discarding a diamond. South passed this second trick also, but when West persisted with a third round (on which East threw another diamond), declarer won. He foresaw that he would have a very good use for his last spade.

South cashed his three diamond tricks, and now East gave up a low heart.

The course of play up to this juncture had pretty well marked the distribution of suits, and South acted on his reading of that distribution. He led a low club and played dummy's ten—not with any hope of winning the trick, but simply to pass it into the East hand.

East captured the trick with the club queen and exited safely in clubs. South won with the king, went to the club ace, and then threw West on lead with the spade. This was the defenders' fourth trick—but also their last! For now, West had to break the heart suit, and South simply played for split honors. That is, he assumed, according to percentage, that each defender had one heart honor. So, by letting West's low heart ride to the closed hand, and picking up East's queen, South then had a straight finesse against West's jack of hearts.

Better Golf

By SAM SNEAD

Illustrated today is a graphic picture of overswinging. If our pictured player followed correct golf technique, it would be impossible for him to get his club in the pictured position. Notice that his hip pivot has gone so far that his left foot is perpendicular, whereas his left heel should be lifted only a scant two inches from the ground and his left leg weight should be on the inside of the rim of the ball of the left foot, instead of being as you see it—on the toe. The next flaw in this player's golfing form is the very serious error bending that left arm at the elbow. The left arm is always as nearly straight as you can possibly keep it. But, since this player has bent his left arm, he has overswung into a position from which he cannot possibly hope to bring that clubhead back to the ball at the correct mechanical instant. This instant is reached when his reversing hip and shoulder pivot, the downswing of the arms and the full power of the hand-lash which starts hip-high, blend into a single force at impact. Now notice the dotted lines. They indicate the correct arm and hand position at the top.

Hawker-Loppers	34	80
Pinheads	33	21
Eccentrics	22	22
Hotshots	17	27

For the second successive week the high three-game mark of the City Hall Mixed Fivepin Bowling League has been shattered. Tom Smith scored 874 at the Esquimalt Bowladrome last week to better Ken Reid's mark, set a week earlier, by six pins.

Five Dimes easily swept three games from last-place Hotshots to retain its two-game lead. Super Dupers kept pace with the leaders by taking three from Eccentrics.

Other high scores were: Dave Smith, 816, Sam Smith, 814, and B. Wheatcroft, 810. Joyce Fraser again led the women with a 847 total.

QUALITY CHESTERFIELD

All you folks have been in homes and seen bargain sale chesterfield suites in the living-room and they look the part. This one is not like that, you KNOW it's a better quality just to see it. It's a three-piece suite in lovely leaf green colour and [illegible] like new at less than half new price. Our price is $130. Another fine 3-piece suite for only $69.00 and a two-piece mohair suite for $22.00. We have an expensive pale green velour bed-chesterfield, the springs and cover are perfect except for being somewhat faded, but it is a wonderful buy at $39.50

700 ACRES 5 MILES FROM VICTORIA

This strategically situated property is being handled and offered exclusively by Fidelity Realty and offers invited. Situated adjacent to and west of Thetis Lake, there are approximately 700 acres, only five miles from city limits. The future potentialities are unlimited, due to the close proximity to the city. There is a large residence, very adaptable for a country club, fully modern with massive fireplace in 30-foot living-room, basement with new furnace, large barn which could accommodate 30 head. 30 to 40 acres have been under cultivation and some excellent arable land. Beautiful year-round stream, eight miles of roads and numerous trails through property. Apart from future potentialities, this would lend itself to a beautiful riding or country club. This property can be purchased, whole or in part, with a very nominal down cash payment.

GOOD MORNING!
It's not possible for me to list the various good homes that I have for sale in this small space. Would suggest you give me a ring and I'll tell you about them over the phone. Here is one close to Central Park, 4 rooms on basement, new for just $6100. Here is another that the man has built himself. White stucco, basement, furnace, 6 rooms, in the Hillside-Renfrew area. There is a reason for the low price of $6,750. Did you see a lot in the Gorge district for $4250?

Claim of Widow for Damages Dismissed in Supreme Court

Mr Justice A. D. Macfarlane yesterday dismissed a widow's claim for $12,500 in damages from a driver who, she claimed, caused the death of her husband by negligence.

In the suit, Carrie Barto Graham charged that her husband, Melvin C. Graham, was killed while crossing Pandora Ave., in October, 1948, because of the negligent driving of Kenneth R. Poskitt, 1637 Pembroke Street, a Victoria Department of Public Works truck driver.

POOR VISIBILITY

In his Supreme Court judgment Mr. Justice Macfarlane recalled that the night of the accident was one of heavy rain and poor visibility, but he ruled that "the deceased should have seen the lights of the approaching car."

"The deceased man, unfortunately, had been in the habit at times of drinking to excess," the judge said, adding "at the time of the accident he had in his pocket a partly used bottle of gin."

He ruled that, although there was no evidence the pedestrian was intoxicated, "he had not been taking the care which an ordinary person would take."

NOT ENOUGH

In dismissing the action, Mr. Justice Macfarlane said he took into consideration the poor visibility, the man's dark clothing and the fact that he crossed the highway "at a point where reasonably the defendant might not expect pedestrians."

In the decision Mr Justice Macfarlane noted that although Poskitt's windshield wiper was not working at the time, that in itself was not enough to constitute negligence. He said evidence was that his visibility was good enough to see ahead for half a block.

Poskitt was acquitted of manslaughter charges at a recent Assize Court.

Driver Fined on Two Charges As Four Recover From Accident

Driver of a car in which four young people were injured when it plunged off an embankment and struck a tree last November was fined a total of $60 in Saanich police court Thursday.

RESTRICTED LICENCE

James L. Dignan, Verdier Avenue, was fined $50 on a charge of dangerous driving laid under the Criminal Code. He was also fined $10 for driving a vehicle other than the type specified on his restricted driver's licence.

The accident occurred November 10 when Dignan another man and two girls were driving on Durrance Road.

OVERSHOT BANK

The car shot over a six-foot bank and piled into a tree at the bottom. Dignan, seriously injured, was unconscious for two weeks after the accident.

The other man, Arthur Jones, of the Seamen's Institute, suffered severe injuries in the brain and was in critical condition for some time.

Vivian Smart, 17, of 3380 Burns Avenue, and her sister, Nita, suffered slight injuries.

Charles Leary Dies in South

Charles Sydney Leary, provincial public works minister for two years before Coalition was formed in 1941, died in Florida Thursday, according to word received by Premier Byron Johnson yesterday.

A native of Kent, England, he was 65. He came to Canada in 1890 and settled at London, Ontario. In British Columbia he made his home at Nakusp where he was in the lumber business. During the Great War he served as a captain in the 225th Battalion and later in the Forestry Corps.

First elected to the Legislature in 1924, he was defeated in 1928 and returned again in 1933, 1937 and 1941. He served as minister of lands under former Premier T. D. Pattullo.

Bowman Speaker At Convention

Agriculture Minister Harry Bowman will address the second annual convention of British Columbia Frozen Food Locker Association to be held in the Hotel Vancouver on March 16, 17 and 18, it was announced yesterday.

Wallace Seymour, of Duncan, will preside over the meeting.

New and improved methods of freezing fresh foods will be discussed at the convention.

Today's quotation: "They are never alone that are accompanied with noble thoughts."—Sir Philip Sidney.

Saturday for everyone. Limit your purchases to necessities which can best be taken care of in the morning. Be guarded against a tendency to lose, mislay or forget things in the afternoon and evening.

Look for your birthdate and birthsign below:

March 21 to April 19 — (Aries) Review underlying factors painstakingly; correct those which may otherwise hinder progress.

April 20 to May 20—(Taurus) Shy away from detours which may tax the budget or lead to complications, inharmony.

May 21 to June 20—(Gemini) Make the interests of parents or your vocational aspirations your centre of concentration.

June 21 to July 22—(Cancer) Don't be upset if events do not unfold according to expectations. Remain calm and be prompt.

July 23 to August 22—(Leo) Restore cash or borrowed items. Put new life into something; economise in money and energy.

August 23 to September 22 (Virgo) Put small reliance in partner's backing, associates may be elusive, touchy, restive. Be tactful.

September 23 to October 22—(Libra) Be wide-awake concerning wants of those you support and the need of focusing on work, physical well-being.

October 23 to November 21—(Scorpio) Don't demand a free rein right now, be aware of temporary impediments that block fulfillment of fond hopes.

November 22 to December 21—(Sagittarius) Maintain a sharp lookout lest elusive factors cause trouble in your vicinity. Maintain accord.

December 22 to January 19—(Capricorn) Use the "velvet glove" technique on difficult persons you encounter today; employ perception.

January 20 to February 18—(Aquarius) Mull over the state of your finances and worldly holdings, check details re costs, values, etc.

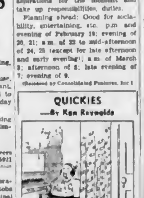

February 19 to March 20—(Pisces) Set aside your individual aspirations for the moment and take up responsibilities, duties.

Planning ahead: Good for sociability, entertaining, etc. p.m. and evening of February 19; evening of 20, 21; a.m. of 23 to mid-afternoon of 24, 25 (except for late afternoon and early evening); a.m. of March 3; afternoon of 5; late evening of 7; evening of 9.

Johnson Says B.C. Will Co-Operate In Any Reasonable Housing Effort

Premier Byron Johnson told the Legislature yesterday that his Government had assured Federal authorities of co-operation "in any reasonable effort which was made to break the back of the housing shortage.

"The Government proposes to introduce housing legislation at this session enabling the province to enter into agreements with the Dominion Government and the various cities and municipalities throughout British Columbia," declared the Premier.

Though no details of the legislation were given it is expected to enable the province to participate in the broad scheme already announced whereby Provincial Governments guarantee housing loans to an extent of 25 per cent, the Federal Government, 75 per cent, and municipalities are left the responsibility of assembling land and services.

PROVIDE MEDIUM

"The proposals which are embodied in the amendments to the National Housing Act, passed at the last session of Parliament, in my opinion, provide the medium by which to build the homes that may be required," declared Premier Johnson.

He advised that municipal governments had been asked to make surveys and report their housing requirements to the province.

"It is the intention that the house in each project will be available for purchase or rental, the rent being established at as low a level as construction and maintenance costs will permit," stated Premier Johnson.

"Every encouragement will be given to home ownership," he added.

DIKE CONTROL

The Legislature will be asked to give the Government over-riding authority to maintain dikes in the province where diking districts are negligent in this work, Premier Byron Johnson informed the Legislature yesterday.

The districts will be charged up with the work done by the province.

The Premier stressed that $11,500,000 had been spent in the Fraser Valley since the great 1948 flood and the total dike investment was now $18,000,000. Another $1,000,0000 had been spent elsewhere in the province.

One of the major factors contributing to the 1948 flood was the serious neglect of dike maintenance by property owners in the protected areas. Since then, the Federal Government had paid 75 per cent of the reconstruction bill and had insisted, as part of its agreement, that dikes be properly maintained.

WEST TO EAST

A mace to be presented to Canada's newest province, Newfoundland, by the Government of British Columbia will be ready for delivery in March, Premier Johnson told the Legislature yesterday.

The Legislature will be asked to pass a resolution, to accompany the gift, expressing British Columbia's welcome to the New Province.

TO OVERHAUL SERVICE

Entire British Columbia Government service will be overhauled, Premier Byron Johnson told the Legislature yesterday.

The Government will hire experts in management and administrative procedures to survey Government departments one by one.

Mr. Johnson referred to the survey which has been conducted by Kellogg and Stevenson in the Motor Vehicle Branch, as a result of which the Government will make changes, including amendments to present legislation, which would result in "substantial savings."

"It is the intention of the Government," the premier added, "to review the entire Government service, to take advantage of any savings which can be made by modernizing our accounting and general office procedures."

Forecast some time ago, the move is regarded as part of the general Government campaign to tighten up on expenditures in anticipation of the day when revenue will no longer rocket upwards each year.

WANT ACT REPEALED

A five-man delegation of Mount Garibaldi Playground Committee members met the Provincial Cabinet yesterday to ask repeal of the "obsolete" Garibaldi Park Act of 1927.

The delegation went the park placed under control of the parks and recreational division of the Department of Lands and Forests.

They declared "a poor man's Switzerland" was lying undeveloped and unsung within 75 miles of the City of Vancouver because the park board charged with the duty of administering Garibaldi has "neither the funds nor the energy" to manage the area properly.

Members of the delegation included Dr Bert Brink, Natural History Society of Vancouver; William Tildesley, Natural History Society of Victoria, Donald Buchanan, Vancouver Community Planning section; Roy Howard, British Columbia Mountaineering Club; Dr. Neil Carter, Vancouver branch of the Alpine Society of Canada.

Hold Funeral For Dr. Lough

Funeral services were held yesterday in Vancouver for Dr. A. Gordon Lough, Winnipeg-born dentist who practised here for 25 years before moving to Vancouver in 1945.

A veteran of both wars, Dr. Lough served with the Royal Flying Corps during the Great War and with the Canadian Dental Corps during the World War.

A graduate of Toronto Dental College, he is survived by his widow; a daughter, Marilyn; a son, Gordon; three sisters, Mrs. H Roy Mustard of Vancouver, and Jenny and Ruby, Winnipeg; three brothers, Robert G., W. Fred, and Eber T., all of Winnipeg.

To Tell of Drive For Skiing Area

Progress report in connection with the campaign to have the Mount Brenton area, near Chemainus, made Provincial Park lands in order to provide Southern Vancouver Island with its own skiing ground, will be delivered by President Gordon Bowes, of the Victoria Outdoor Club, at the group's annual dinner, 7 p.m., Wednesday at the Montrrey

Eyres Stresses Value Of "Visitor Industry"

Yesterday was "tourist promotion" day in Victoria.

Highlight of the day was the annual meeting of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau at the Empress Hotel, where Hon. Leslie Eyres, Minister of Trade and Industry for British Columbia, told of the growing importance of the "visitor industry."

During the morning, executive members of the Evergreen Playground Association—comprising Victoria, Vancouver, Seattle and Tacoma—held a special meeting to discuss the 1950 advertising and promotional program.

Twenty-eight members of the Vancouver Tourist Association chartered a special Trans-Canada Air Lines plane to attend the luncheon meeting at the Empress.

At the Publicity Bureau's annual meeting Mr. Eyres said "few people realize the work being done by the Government of British Columbia in promoting the tourist industry in this province."

"Last year," he stated, "about 1,250,000 persons visited British Columbia—well over the population of the province." It is estimated they spent "some $53,000,000."

"The visitor business is everybody's business."

He claimed at least 80 per cent of the people who visited British Columbia last year came as a result of various advertisements displayed throughout the Dominion and the United States.

The Government of British Columbia, Mr. Eyres said, was advertising this province and its scenic beauties to an almost unbelievable extent through the medium of national newspapers and magazines, distribution of films, and travel folders. There were also special "field men" making continual contact with travel bureaus and various transportation agencies.

The luncheon meeting also included the showing of two color films by Clarence Ferris of the British Columbia Travel Bureau. Both dealt with scenery attractions of the province.

Each of the Vancouver Tourist Association members — headed by President H. S Hipwell—wore a daffodil in his lapel button-hole. In addition, the Vancouverites presented W L. Woodhouse, president of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, with a large bouquet of the yellow blooms.

The gesture was returned when Mayor Percy George, on behalf of the publicity bureau, presented the Vancouver group with a large bundle of almost-blossoming Oriental plum branches—"picked from the boulevards of the city this morning."

Incentive for Europe Likely Hoffman's Plan

—Interpreting the News—

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
A.P. Foreign Affairs Analyst

Paul Hoffman says he has a new plan to speed up unification of Europe's economy.

Pending its presentation to Congress he doesn't say what it is.

It is reasonable to assume, however, that an incentive motive is to be added to the threats which so far have failed.

The Economic Co-operation Administration has been trying, through warnings of congressional wrath, to get the Europeans to eliminate trade barriers and turn themselves into one big market. The Continental countries have been more or less agreeable in theory, but in practice, and hampered by a strong British hold-back, they haven't been able to overcome tradition and selfish interests.

Hoffman also may be hoping, in addition to giving the Europeans some new incentive to give Congress some sort of promise of greater results from new appropriations which have been asked.

INCORRECT, PREMATURE

There is a great deal of talk that the Marshall Plan is a failure. This is politically incorrect and economically premature.

Communism has been beaten down—compare the fizzle of the Communist-called railroad strike in France Friday with similar demonstrations three years ago—and the Communists are now farther than ever from power in such places as France and Italy. That was the immediate and prime objective of the Marshall Plan. Hand-in-hand but secondary was the long-range economic objective, to keep Communism down after it had been beaten.

It is generally agreed now that only part of this latter objective will be attained before the scheduled end of the program.

The United Nations reports that, so far as stabilizing world trade is concerned, things are worse. U.N. experts are suggesting a complete reappraisal.

HAD MARGIN

The United States used to buy raw materials from many non-industrial countries, who spent a part of the dollars thus obtained to buy European industrial products, so that Europe had some margin to work on against its own balance of trade with America.

Now the raw material producers are doing more of their own processing, but Europe has not adjusted her production to meet changed demand.

Meanwhile, the United States has been doing nearly one-fourth of the world's entire export business—but on an uneconomic basis. Because half of the United States export business has not been paid for by the recipients, but by America's own money from the aid funds.

The only immediate reaction is that the United States must accept more imports, which means a vastly expanding purchasing power—more than is promised by the business outlook—or a decrease in the home market for American production.

The long-range reaction looks toward President Truman's program to provide new markets for American goods while the United States buys from abroad, and for American investors to send dollars abroad.

NOT SOLUTION

That is something like the old British Empire system. It is a fertile field for the historical philosophers. But it's not a solution for immediate problems. If Hoffman has something like a solution he will really pull a good one.

Hospital Plan Benefits May Be Cut, Training Cost Borne, Premier Hints

Possible curtailment of benefits and direct payment of the cost of training nurses were hinted by Premier Byron I. Johnson yesterday as probable changes in the hospital insurance scheme.

The Premier gave no definite statement of the changes to be made, indicating they will be outlined by Health and Welfare Minister George S. Pearson.

He did, however, give some intimation of what the Government had in mind.

"I'm not satisfied that all the things now chargeable to hospital insurance should be charged," he said. "We are going to take whatever action is necessary. If it is necessary to spend $2,000,000 a year to train nurses, we will do it."

BIG FACTOR

Increased wages in hospitals had been a big factor in increased costs, but it still must be remembered that hospital workers are entitled to equal treatment with other occupations, the Premier said.

He went on:

"Another major factor in respect to the heavy drain on hospital insurance revenues has been the wide scope of services given the citizens of British Columbia from the very outset. . . . I venture to say that nowhere else on this continent is so wide a hospital service given for so reasonable a premium.

MUST BE STUDIED

"All of these services must be examined in order to bring about modifications that will be necessary to improve the plan."

Later the Premier said: "We must also keep in mind that to maintain these exclusive services requires an understanding on the part of the citizens that revenue must be sufficient to meet costs."

He asked the Legislature to remember, in judging the success or otherwise of the plan, that it had been in operation only a year and that it was a "difficult and onerous task."

One of the big reasons for introducing the plan, said the Premier, was that two years ago a delegation representing Vancouver General, Jubilee and Royal Columbian Hospitals, had informed him that, unless the Government could put up an additional $1,100,000, some of the hospitals would have to close. Collections were running only 60 per cent, rates were being increased sharply, increasing the difficulty of collection, and bills for supplies had been unpaid for months.

MOSTLY ACHIEVED

The insurance plan had gone a long way to meet the financial problems of hospitals. The second objective, to provide a reasonable degree of security for the people against hospital bills "has in large measure been achieved," said the Premier.

During 1949, 170,000 accounts totaling $15,000,000 had been paid for an average length of stay of 10.16 days. A total of 1,800 accounts amounting to $115,000 has been paid for British Columbia citizens outside the province for service received in all parts of Canada, the United States, Mexico, Australia, South Africa and Ireland.

"I feel sure we can say," said Mr. Johnson," and I am not unmindful of the fact that there is still a shortage of beds, that we have given to the people of the province a degree of security as far as hospital bills are concerned and the financial position of our hospitals is in much better shape than before the Hospital Insurance service came into effect."

Milkman Fined After Boys Hurt by Truck

William A. C. Knight, milk truck driver, of 2601 Penrhyn Street, was fined $35 on a charge of careless driving Thursday in Saanich Police Court.

Police evidence was that Knight's truck ran into two young boys on Quadra Street near Tolmie Avenue in the early morning of January 24.

STRUCK FROM BEHIND

Alan Morley 15, of 3631 Quadra Street, suffered a broken nose, concussion and leg injuries. David Price, 14, 1070 San Marino Crescent, was shaken up.

The two were struck from behind as they pushed their bicycles down the icy street.

Knight said he "didn't see the boys until I was right on top of them."

—FATE—

There was a time we might have met,
An hour we might have dined together;
Only it rained that nite and I
Stayed snug at home fearing the weather.

And once I saw you on the street,
Lilacs were out, the air was heady,
I might have stopped to speak, but you,
Hailing a bus, were gone already.

I might have looked, you might have smiled,
But we didn't and I can't see why
If we had known that you were you
And I was I. Or did you pass and sigh.

It's odd to think we might have been
Sun, Moon and Stars to each other,
Only I turned down one little street
And you went up another.

For Quick Cough Relief, Mix This Syrup, at Home

You'll be surprised how quickly a bad winter cough can be relieved, when you try this well known recipe. It is universally used throughout Canada because it gives such gratifying results. It's no trouble at all to mix, and costs but a trifle.

Into a 16 ounce bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then fill up with granulated sugar syrup to make 16 ounces. Syrup is easily made with 2 cups of sugar and 1 cup of water, stirred a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup. This makes four times as much cough medicine for your money. Never spoils and tastes fine.

Quickly you feel its penetrating effect. It loosens the phlegm, helps to clear the air passages, and soothes the irritated membranes. This explains why it brings such quick relief. Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well known for its soothing effect on throat irritations. Money refunded if it does not please you in every way.

Branch to Enlarge Hall at Parksville

PARKSVILLE, Feb. 17.—Plans for reconstruction of Legion Hall at Parksville were presented for the approval of members by J. Ryan, building committee chairman, at a meeting of the Mt. Arrowsmith Branch. Plans include a large main hall, kitchen, committee rooms, dressing rooms and a stage. Progress has already been made in flooring and lining the portion of the hall now in use.

Major E. J. Chaloner announced there would be a meeting in the hall on Monday night for all boys interested in joining a proposed Army Cadet Corps to be sponsored by the Legion. In response to a request from the 68th Light Anti-Aircraft Regiment at Nanaimo, it was agreed to rent the hall for lectures every Thursday evening.

K. Finch was appointed representative to form plans with the Parksville Community Society for a July 1 celebration to be held at Parksville Community Park. F. Rawlins and W. Barnum will assist.

On behalf of the Vancouver Island Ayrshire Association, J. Tryon thanked the branch for sponsoring the Red and White Show again this year, and stated that it was the first time the association had agreed to have the show at the same place two years in succession. Legion members in charge of the show arrangements are T. C. Tryon, A. Braddock and Maurice Beuerlein. The date will be set early in June.

A report on the poppy fund by J. H. Tweddle, showed a net profit of $222. The Students' Council of Parksville School was commended for having collected $67 of the amount. The financial statement was read by L. Rogers.

T. C. Tryon reminded members that the next council meeting would be held at Bowser Hall on March 5 at 2:30 p.m. Resolutions were passed to be presented at that meeting, among them being discussion of the dates for the annual North Island Zone sports day.

A. Gowan gave a report on the entertainments committee, and announced T. C. Tryon, R. Bergstrom, M. F. Marks, F. McLaughlin and J. McNeil had been added to the group.

Weather Forecasts

West Coast of Vancouver Island—Overcast and mild with rain. Southeast gales reaching to 45 m.p.h. decreasing to southwest 35 m.p.h. late this afternoon. Outlook for Sunday—Intermittent rain.

Clubmen Seek New Members

DUNCAN, Feb. 17.—Decision to enlarge the Duncan Kiwanis Club from 27 to 35 members was made at a meeting in Aldeiria Hall.

Plans were discussed for a schoolsafety patrol. A report showed the club tuberculosis seal campaign had produced nearly $2,500.

Next meeting will be attended by Charles Mann of Victoria, Kiwanis lieutenant-governor, and also presidents of the Victoria, Oak Bay and Nanaimo Kiwanis Clubs. Election of officers will be followed by a dinner and dance.

Courtenay to Stage Several Ski Tournaments at Plateau

COURTENAY, Feb. 17.—Four major ski tournaments will be held on the slopes of Forbidden Plateau ski fields, according to announcement made by Herbert Bradley of the Courtenay Recreational Association, and Mrs. Gervase Chambers of Forbidden Plateau Lodge.

Announce Pictures

VIEW ROYAL, Feb. 17.—Clarence R. D. Ferris, chief photographer of the Provincial Department of Trade and Industry, will show colored motion pictures of wild life during a meeting of the View Royal Community Association at 8 p.m. Monday.

They are: Courtenay Recreational Association's Kandahar race for the Kandahar Trophy March 12, Forbidden Plateau Ski Club's downhill for men, women, novices and juniors for The Daily Colonist Trophy, The Victoria Daily Times Trophy, and the Vancouver Island Coach Lines Trophy, March 26, Fanny Dunkerq Junior Ski Club combined slalom and downhill closed contest for the Wells Grey Trophy.

PLANS FOR YEAR'S WORK

COLWOOD, Feb. 17.— Plans for the year's work will be made by Colwood Scout Group during a meeting at 8 p.m. next Wednesday, and the E. W. Buckle Trophy, and Vancouver Island Open Championships, staged by the Comox District Mountaineering Club. The last named event will be a two-day tournament, with slalom races scheduled for April 8, and downhill races on April 10.

The Kandahar race will begin at the forest service lookout and run through a lush tail that includes some near-vertical drops, to Forbidden Plateau Lodge. Present holder of the trophy is Stanley Rushton of Courtenay.

The Forbidden Plateau Ski Club's downhill event will follow a much easier course to the lodge. Fanny Dunker's tourney will be held on Timberline Hill, above the lodge, and will feature downhill and slalom races over a "trickY course." Island ski championship, will be held atop Mount Becher.
